President-Elect Might Face Truman-Type Congress Rift

Slippery Road Brings Accident

Alfred Vauthier, 64, of Route 32, Kingston, was reported to be in "fair" condition this morning at Kingston Hospital following an accident at 5 p. m. yesterday on Route 9W one and a half miles south of Port Ewen. Highland State Police reported that Vauthier, driving a 1948 Jeep north on 9W, went off the right side of the highway, lost control and swung back into the rear wheels of a large milk tanker traveling south. The tractor-trailer, owned by Blackburn Rickless, Inc., driven by Herbert Curtiss, 44, of Munnsville, was undamaged. State police said the accident was caused by "slippery roads." They reported that Vauthier suffered lacerations of the face and scalp and possible internal injuries. There were no arrests. Trooper William Martin investigated. (Freeman photo)

Feye Hits Jewish Congress on Stand About Resort Ads

Declares 'Transgression on American Ideals' Not Condoned by Many Jews

In a letter to the New York State Commission Against Discrimination, a local resident, as president of the New York State Package Store Association, blames the American Jewish Congress for transgression against fundamental American ideals in its protest against advertising saying a resort is near churches.

Jack Feye, of Feye's Liquor Store, 240 Clinton avenue, said in his letter that the Congress "evidently objects to the fact that advertising does not mention that 'synagogues' are also available close by," then added, "the commonly accepted colloquial definition of the word 'church' is 'regular religious services or public worship' with no hint of what religion might be involved."

Feye further stressed that "'Church' is a good American word that dates from the founding of our nation and should not be displaced by other foreign words having a limited and un-American meaning."

Not Thoughts of All

As president of the Package Stores Association, Feye said, "We believe (the American Jewish Congress) does not represent the thought of any large part of Judaism in America, and certainly does not represent the beliefs of our many Jewish friends in Ulster county . . ."

Referring to Williams Lake Hotel as one of the "libeled resorts" in press reports, Feye said it "bears a spotless reputation among all creeds and nationalities," and gave this example: "That they discriminate against Jews is proved baseless daily, a point in instance being the October 26th, 1952, banquet and meeting of the liquor dealers of Ulster, Orange and Dutchess counties. Over 200 dealers were welcomed and entertained, of whom about 65 per cent were of the Jewish faith."

Senator Taft's Sudden Blowup Studied by Legislators—Some Hope Taft Is More Concerned About His Law

Washington, Dec. 3 (AP)—Sen. Robert A. Taft's sudden blast at President-elect Eisenhower for his choice of a secretary of labor today posed the possibility Eisenhower could face as rebellious a Congress as those President Truman had in recent years.

Congressmen were wondering whether the Ohio senator's bitter denunciation of Eisenhower's selection of Martin P. Durkin to the labor post—Taft called it "incredible"—meant:

1. All-out war between the forces of Eisenhower and Taft in the incoming Republican administration; or,

2. A temporary, isolated blowup growing out of Taft's tenderness toward his own Taft-Hartley labor relations law.

If the answer turns out to be "yes" to the first question, then the result could be the same frustration of Eisenhower's legislative program that has afflicted many of Truman's proposals.

Throughout the Truman administration, conservative southern senators joined with the Republicans to block most "Fair Deal" domestic legislation.

The few Republican senators at the Capitol today were exceedingly wary about stepping into any potential struggle between the President-elect who got the biggest popular vote in history and the senator long known as "Mr. Republican."

But there were straws in the wind.

Hope of Senators

Some GOP senators were hoping Taft's denunciation of the Durkin appointment was tied chiefly to the senator's concern for maintenance of the basic principles of the Taft-Hartley law.

Taft's blistering statement emphasized that Durkin was a union official and a Democrat who opposed Eisenhower. But it also stressed that he "advocated the repeal of the Taft-Hartley law."

Durkin is president of the AFL Plumbers Union. After his appointment was announced, Durkin said he did not foresee an end to the Taft-Hartley law in the near future and that he would join in efforts to amend the law. His union is pledged to work for repeal of T-H.

Taft has indicated willingness to go along with minor changes in the law favored by Eisenhower and union leaders. But he has made unmistakably clear that he wants no tampering with what he considers the act's essentials.

Might Indicate Showdown

Some Senate sources were of the opinion that Taft's next moves on taking over the Republican Senate majority leader post would show whether he really planned a showdown fight with the new President.

If Taft moves openly to grab that key job, it would be highly significant, these sources agree. A President must consult regularly with the majority leader to put over his legislative program.

So far, Taft, Sen. Bridges (R-N.H.) and Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) have figured in most of the talk about the leader's post.

Taft has pronounced himself as "available" for the job, but he said at a news conference here

Humphrey Hopes For Good Relations For Ike and Labor

Eisenhower Headquarters Has No Comment on Taft Reaction to Durkin

By RELMAN MORIN

New York, Dec. 3 (AP)—President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower's Headquarters had no comment today on aspects and possible implications of Sen. Robert A. Taft's explosion over Eisenhower's choice of a secretary of labor.

"There will be no comment on the Taft statement," a member of the staff told reporters.

Although Eisenhower Headquarters was silent on the situation, George M. Humphrey, Cleveland businessman who has been picked for secretary of the treasury, told a news conference:

"I hope we haven't started with a rift."

"A rift with Sen. Taft or with labor?" a reporter asked.

Hopes for Good Relations

"With anybody," Humphrey replied. "I hope this administration is going to have a good relation with labor. It should have."

Taft's blast yesterday followed the announcement that Eisenhower had named Martin P. Durkin, a Chicago Democrat and AFL leader, to be secretary of labor.

The choice, Taft said, was "incredible."

Humphrey said he has supported Taft "in every election Bob has ever been in." He said he understood that while Taft did not recommend him for the cabinet, the senator endorsed his nomina-

Applicants Renew Bid for Changes in Zoning for Market

Buffer Provisions Offered at Council Meeting —Underpass Rules Are Voted

Rejected applicants for zoning changes that would open the way for the building of a super market in the Albany avenue-Roosevelt Park area, renewed bids with buffer zone provisions at last night's Common Council meeting.

These were referred to the laws and rules committee, but the council went along in approving business zone designations for properties fronting on Albany avenue from Roosevelt avenue to the city line, which is already considered predominantly a commercial area.

The aldermen voted to make permanent, traffic regulations, which had been under 60-day trial in the Broadway underpass area, referred two claims totaling $3,300 to the corporation counsel, and to the mayor a renewed request to use the School No. 8 property for recreational purposes.

Designations Denied

Harold Halwick and John W. Evans, along with Martin & Moran, Inc., who following recent public hearing were denied business zone designations for properties, on which it was reported the Grand Union Co., had planned to build a super market, asked for consideration of new proposals, which, they believe, "would protect the residential character of the neighborhood."

The Halwick-Evans tract would have a five-foot buffer zone along Manor Place and that of Martin & Moran, Inc., would reserve five feet along Madison avenue for the same purpose.

Report Says Clean Bill Given Some

Most Flagrant Cases Declared All Right, Is Statement Given by Body

'Stymie' Charged

State Department Says Confidential Files Are Involved

New York, Dec. 3 (AP)—A critical Federal Grand Jury and the U. S. State Department showed apparent disagreement today over just how much the department is doing to help ferret out American Reds on the United Nations headquarters staff.

The grand jury, in a report made here yesterday, said the State Department gave "disloyal officials a clean bill of health" in some of "the most flagrant and obvious cases of disloyalty."

The report also said the State Department "stymied" the panel's inquiry into the matter. Last night one of the jury's members said there even appeared to be State Department pressure to have the report withheld.

Says Attention Drawn

The State Department, in a statement issued last night in Washington, said it had no authority over UN personnel but that it had drawn the attention of the UN to Americans whom it "believes to be Communists."

In reply to the jury's contention it withheld certain names of department officials who reviewed and cleared four of the cases, the department said it did so because questioning would have concerned confidential files.

The grand jury report was added fuel to the weeks-long debate on the question of suspected American Communists on the UN staff.

A U.S. Senate Internal Security subcommittee, which has been investigating the matter, promptly made the panel's 3,000-word report part of its own record.

Would Consider Report

Sen. Herbert O'Conor (D-Md), sitting here as a subcommittee of one, said his group would consider the report in the light of necessary legislation.

O'Conor took up the jury's statement just before the subcommittee adjourned indefinitely its hearings here.

The federal grand jury's report, handed up to Judge David N. Edelstein, said many disloyal Americans moved from one U. S. government post to another and finally infiltrated the UN as part of a "definite planned pattern."

Making its report on the last day of its 18-month term, the grand jury urged that a new panel be appointed to carry on its work.

No Individuals Named

No individuals were named in the report, which was not an indictment.

Among its recommendations, the jury suggested that the U. S. set up a code of security rules to which its citizens must conform before being permitted to accept employment with the UN or its specialized agencies.

In its statement, the State Department said in part:

"The Department of State is not in a position to instruct the United Nations secretariat on the appointment of any one, not even an American."

Also mentioned by the State Department was a recommendation made last Sunday by a panel of three international jurists, who said the UN must rule on its own personnel. However, the jurists advised UN Secretary General Trygve Lie he can and should fire any UN American employe accused of espionage who refuses to answer questions by an official U. S. body.

Lie had no immediate comment on the grand jury report.

The grand jury member who said the panel was under pressure to delay or pigeonhole its report was Max Zimmerman, a New York trade paper publisher.

Zimmerman told newsmen the jurors "had reasons to suspect" that the State Department, working through the Justice Department, had started to exert pressure.

He said "Washington began to intercede" early yesterday for some unknown reasons and that the jurors became indignant and insisted making their report "come hell or high water."

Slansky, Others Hanged by Reds

Prague Radio Announces Executions at Pankrac Jail; Purge Due

Vienna, Austria, Dec. 3 (AP)—Rudolf Slansky, former boss of the Czechoslovak Communist Party, was hanged today with 10 others who worshipped at the shrine of Joseph Stalin. They died at Prague's Pankrac Prison—as traitors to Stalinism.

Prague radio announced the executions, carried out only six days after the 11 were sentenced to death. This foreshadowed a possible new and even broader purge of Czechoslovak Communist ranks.

Eight of those executed, including Slansky, were Jews whose wooden confessions in their trial had the appearance of a concerted attack by the Communist party on world Jewry. Three others who were tried drew life sentences.

Snowfall Hampers Travel Locally

Sanding Crews Are Kept Busy—Heaviest Delays on Boulevard

A fall of less than three inches of snow here hampered highway travel in the county and on city streets, but resulted in no serious accidents.

An Associated Press report from Albany said one to five inches of snow fell throughout most of the state.

The city engineer's office recorded two and three quarter inches here, but the state report indicated at least an inch more fell in parts of the Catskills. Five inches were reported at Binghamton.

Many hills and intersections in the city were reported slippery yesterday afternoon and last night, and the heaviest traffic delays appeared to be on the Boulevard hill.

Crews Go Out Early

City and county sanding crews went out early yesterday afternoon and were sanding hills and intersections most of the night.

Officers James Burns and Frank Sammons reported a mishap at Main and Emerson streets at 2:30 p. m., yesterday when the car of David Bach, of West Bridge street, Saugerties, and Dr. Saul Golfarb, 277 Fair street, collided. Bach, the report said, suffered an injury of the left knee.

First reports of slippery conditions began coming in at police headquarters at 4:34 p. m. They continued almost steadily until 5:27, and there was a lapse until 8:48 when the Broadway hill was reported slippery. At 8:50 the East Chester by-pass, which had been hazardous earlier, was again reported slippery.

Traffic was reported "congested" on the Boulevard hill at 5:27 p. m., and earlier travel was reported dangerous on the Hasbrouck avenue hill, on West Pierpont and Ravine street, and Albany avenue.

Complaints Investigated

Police investigated two complaints that children were coasting on city streets. One at 8:05 p. m., said a group was riding on Main street between Mountain View and Grand View avenues, and the other at 8:20 complained of a group riding on Ponckhockie streets. Both had left the streets before police arrived.

A general weather report said the snow plagued wide areas of the northeast, caused at least three deaths, and created a nightmare of traffic jams.

The snow, which began falling north and east from the Virginia mountains, changed to rain in

Jarka's President Is Called as First Witness; Asked About Cash

New York, Dec. 3 (AP)—The New York State Crime Commission today launched its long-awaited probe of one of the world biggest rackets along the world's biggest waterfront.

It called as its first witness Frank W. Nolan, president of the Jarka Corporation, one of the country's biggest firms.

Through court action the corporation has been trying to prevent the commission from entering into the records of its public hearings testimony which some of its officials gave at closed commission sessions.

Exhibit Set Forth

Commission officials set forth an exhibit showing that five officers of the Jarka Corporation drew $489,582 in petty cash from Jan. 1, 1947 to last June 30.

Among the officers thus listed was Capt. Franz Jarka, chairman of the board of directors of the corporation, who died at his Greenwich, Conn., home last night at the age of 76.

When Nolan was questioned about the petty cash figures by special counsel Theodore Kiendl he said the expenditures were

200 New Cars Are Lost in Ohio River

Henderson, Ky., Dec. 3 (AP)—The Ohio river swallowed another barge loaded with approximately 200 new automobiles last night—the second such accident within a year for the Commercial Barge Lines, Inc.

A company spokesman at Evansville, Ind., valued each of the cars at about $2,000 but could give no reason for the sinking at the head of Henderson Islands, four miles downstream.

Last winter the firm lost a barge and 150 new cars near Golconda, Ill., but many of those were salvaged later.

Was Between His Feet

New York, Dec. 3 (AP)—Loss of a small leather bag containing $95,000 worth of negotiable American Express Company domestic money orders on a crowded subway train last night was reported to police by a company salesman.

Richard J. Kehoe, 50, an American Express salesman for 10 years, said the bag disappeared from between his feet as he was reading a newspaper.

Police, catching up with the train at the end of the line, found no trace of the bag or money orders.

Fowler Says U. S. Controls Continue

Washington, Dec. 3 (AP)—Mobilization boss Henry H. Fowler declared today that controls will stay in force as long as the Truman administration is in power.

He said it would be "a grave mistake" to scrap price, wage and production controls now. Such a decision, Fowler said, would "foreclose decisions that can be better made later."

The mobilizer said the decision represents his personal view, but it would take a public repudiation by President Truman to alter the policy.

Fowler said that retain controls follows the general thinking line of the administration.

He also overruled the steel industry's recommendation that allocation of steel be greatly relaxed on Jan. 1 and that controlled allotments of the metal to civilian industries be ended April 1.

Cattle Are Destroyed

Pine Bush, Dec. 3 (AP)—Thirty head of cattle died early today when fire destroyed a barn on the property of Howard Mance, Jr., three miles from here. An auto, farm machinery and hay also were destroyed. Fire Chief Crawford Gillespie estimated the total loss at $75,000. He said a hose break hampered Pine Bush and Walden firemen in fighting the blaze. Mance, returning home in a snowstorm, discovered the blaze shortly after midnight. The cause was not determined.

State Income Average Is $1,996, Department Reports

Albany, Dec. 3 (AP)—The income of New York state residents averaged $1,996 per person last year, the State Commerce Department reports.

Total incomes in the state in 1951 rose to a record $30,600,000,000, the department said in estimates released yesterday.

Westchester county, with a per-capita income of $2,679, led all other counties. New York city as a whole, and five counties outside the city topped the state-wide average.

In addition to Westchester, they were Nassau, $2,294; Schenectady, $2,130; Niagara, $2,055; and Monroe, $2,030. New York city's average was $2,189.

The smallest per-capita income —$978 — was reported in Yates county.

New York city residents' net income for 1951 totaled $19,112,800,000 or nearly two-thirds of the state's total.

Erie county residents, with $1,660,100,000 received a larger total income than any other counties outside New York.

Other top county totals, in order, were: Westchester, $1,270,400,000; Nassau, $1,040,600,000; Monroe, $1,003,900,000, and Onondaga, $665,500,000.

Trade and service industries, the department said, were the principal sources of individual incomes in the state.

Income of $9,600,000,000 31.4 per cent of the state's total, was received from these industries as salaries, wages, and as profits from unincorporated businesses.

Manufacturing payrolls ranked second. They yielded factory workers more than seven billion dollars in 1951. That was 23.3 per cent of all individual incomes.

Agricultural incomes were the smallest segment. A net income of 367 million dollars to farmers in the state was an increase of 17 per cent over 1950.

Top farm income was reported in Suffolk county, with $22,800,000 other high farm-income counties were Wayne, 13½ million; Orange, $13,200,000; Delaware $13,100,000 and Otsego, $12,400,000.

Legal Action Hits Several Accused of Pro-Red Angles

(By The Associated Press)

Persons accused of being Communists or Red sympathizers were the targets of legal action on several fronts yesterday.

In Washington, Atty.-Gen. McGranery ordered a grand jury investigation of Owen Lattimore, Johns Hopkins University professor and one-time consultant to the State Department.

The proceedings will be concerned with whether Lattimore told the truth when he testified during a Senate Internal Subcommittee probe of Far East policy last spring. Lattimore has termed "fantastic" the subcommittee report accusing him of perjury.

Lattimore has been accused by Sen. McCarthy (R.-Wis.) of having been a Soviet espionage agent. The professor has vehemently denied ever having anything to do with communism.

McCarthy told reporters he assumed the Justice Department would follow up its grand jury investigation of Lattimore with similar action against career diplomat John P. Davies, Jr.

Davies, formerly on the State Department policy planning staff, now is deputy political adviser to U. S. occupation authorities in West Germany. The subcommittee contends Davies, too, testified falsely, which Davies denied.

The subcommittee, at another session in New York yesterday, heard Irving P. Schiller testify

Vienna, Austria, Dec. 3 (AP)—Rudolf Slansky, former boss of the Czechoslovak Communist Party, was hanged today with 10 others who worshipped at the shrine of Joseph Stalin. They died at Prague's Pankrac Prison—as traitors to Stalinism.

Prague radio announced the executions, carried out only six days after the 11 were sentenced to death. This foreshadowed a possible new and even broader purge of Czechoslovak Communist ranks.

Eight of those executed, including Slansky, were Jews whose wooden confessions in their trial had the appearance of a concerted attack by the Communist party on world Jewry. Three others who were tried drew life sentences.

Snowfall Hampers Travel Locally

Sanding Crews Are Kept Busy—Heaviest Delays on Boulevard

A fall of less than three inches of snow here hampered highway travel in the county and on city streets, but resulted in no serious accidents.

An Associated Press report from Albany said one to five inches of snow fell throughout most of the state.

The city engineer's office recorded two and three quarter inches here, but the state report indicated at least an inch more fell in parts of the Catskills. Five inches were reported at Binghamton.

Many hills and intersections in the city were reported slippery yesterday afternoon and last night, and the heaviest traffic delays appeared to be on the Boulevard hill.

Crews Go Out Early

City and county sanding crews went out early yesterday afternoon and were sanding hills and intersections most of the night.

Officers James Burns and Frank Sammons reported a mishap at Main and Emerson streets at 2:30 p. m., yesterday when the car of David Bach, of West Bridge street, Saugerties, and Dr. Saul Golfarb, 277 Fair street, collided. Bach, the report said, suffered an injury of the left knee.

First reports of slippery conditions began coming in at police headquarters at 4:34 p. m. They continued almost steadily until 5:27, and there was a lapse until 8:48 when the Broadway hill was reported slippery. At 8:50 the East Chester by-pass, which had been hazardous earlier, was again reported slippery.

Traffic was reported "congested" on the Boulevard hill at 5:27 p. m., and earlier travel was reported dangerous on the Hasbrouck avenue hill, on West Pierpont and Ravine street, and Albany avenue.

Complaints Investigated

Police investigated two complaints that children were coasting on city streets. One at 8:05 p. m., said a group was riding on Main street between Mountain View and Grand View avenues, and the other at 8:20 complained of a group riding on Ponckhockie streets. Both had left the streets before police arrived.

A general weather report said the snow plagued wide areas of the northeast, caused at least three deaths, and created a nightmare of traffic jams.

The snow, which began falling north and east from the Virginia mountains, changed to rain in

Jarka's President Is Called as First Witness; Asked About Cash

New York, Dec. 3 (AP)—The New York State Crime Commission today launched its long-awaited probe of one of the world biggest rackets along the world's biggest waterfront.

It called as its first witness Frank W. Nolan, president of the Jarka Corporation, one of the country's biggest firms.

Through court action the corporation has been trying to prevent the commission from entering into the records of its public hearings testimony which some of its officials gave at closed commission sessions.

Exhibit Set Forth

Commission officials set forth an exhibit showing that five officers of the Jarka Corporation drew $489,582 in petty cash from Jan. 1, 1947 to last June 30.

Among the officers thus listed was Capt. Franz Jarka, chairman of the board of directors of the corporation, who died at his Greenwich, Conn., home last night at the age of 76.

When Nolan was questioned about the petty cash figures by special counsel Theodore Kiendl he said the expenditures were

Was Between His Feet

New York, Dec. 3 (AP)—Loss of a small leather bag containing $95,000 worth of negotiable American Express Company domestic money orders on a crowded subway train last night was reported to police by a company salesman.

Richard J. Kehoe, 50, an American Express salesman for 10 years, said the bag disappeared from between his feet as he was reading a newspaper.

Police, catching up with the train at the end of the line, found no trace of the bag or money orders.

Fowler Says U. S. Controls Continue

Washington, Dec. 3 (AP)—Mobilization boss Henry H. Fowler declared today that controls will stay in force as long as the Truman administration is in power.

He said it would be "a grave mistake" to scrap price, wage and production controls now. Such a decision, Fowler said, would "foreclose decisions that can be better made later."

The mobilizer said the decision represents his personal view, but it would take a public repudiation by President Truman to alter the policy.

Fowler said that retain controls follows the general thinking line of the administration.

He also overruled the steel industry's recommendation that allocation of steel be greatly relaxed on Jan. 1 and that controlled allotments of the metal to civilian industries be ended April 1.

Cattle Are Destroyed

Pine Bush, Dec. 3 (AP)—Thirty head of cattle died early today when fire destroyed a barn on the property of Howard Mance, Jr., three miles from here. An auto, farm machinery and hay also were destroyed. Fire Chief Crawford Gillespie estimated the total loss at $75,000. He said a hose break hampered Pine Bush and Walden firemen in fighting the blaze. Mance, returning home in a snowstorm, discovered the blaze shortly after midnight. The cause was not determined.

200 New Cars Are Lost in Ohio River

Henderson, Ky., Dec. 3 (AP)—The Ohio river swallowed another barge loaded with approximately 200 new automobiles last night—the second such accident within a year for the Commercial Barge Lines, Inc.

A company spokesman at Evansville, Ind., valued each of the cars at about $2,000 but could give no reason for the sinking at the head of Henderson Islands, four miles downstream.

Last winter the firm lost a barge and 150 new cars near Golconda, Ill., but many of those were salvaged later.

State Income Average Is $1,996, Department Reports

Albany, Dec. 3 (AP)—The income of New York state residents averaged $1,996 per person last year, the State Commerce Department reports.

Total incomes in the state in 1951 rose to a record $30,600,000,000, the department said in estimates released yesterday.

Westchester county, with a per-capita income of $2,679, led all other counties. New York city, as a whole, and five counties outside the city topped the state-wide average.

In addition to Westchester, they were Nassau, $2,294; Schenectady, $2,130; Niagara, $2,055; and Monroe, $2,030. New York city's average was $2,189.

The smallest per-capita income —$978 — was reported in Yates county.

New York city residents' net income for 1951 totaled $19,112,800,000 or nearly two-thirds of the state's total.

Erie county residents, with $1,660,100,000 received a larger total income than any other counties outside New York.

Other top county totals, in order, were: Westchester, $1,270,400,000; Nassau, $1,040,600,000; Monroe, $1,003,900,000, and Onondaga, $665,500,000.

Trade and service industries, the department said, were the principal sources of individual incomes in the state.

Income of $9,600,000,000 31.4 per cent of the state's total was received from these industries as salaries, wages, and as profits from unincorporated businesses.

Manufacturing payrolls ranked second. They yielded factory workers more than seven billion dollars in 1951. That was 23.3 per cent of all individual incomes.

Agricultural incomes were the smallest segment. A net income of 367 million dollars to farmers in the state was an increase of 17 per cent over 1950.

Top farm income was reported in Suffolk county, with $22,800,000 other high farm-income counties were Wayne, 13½ million; Orange, $13,200,000; Delaware $13,100,000 and Otsego, $12,400,000.

One Might Succeed Murray

Allan S. Haywood left, CIO vice president and Walter P. Reuther, president of the Auto Workers Union, stand under a huge portrait of the late Philip Murray, CIO president, at the union's convention headquarters in Atlantic City, N. J., Dec. 1. Both are contenders to succeed to the presidency although Reuther, Dec. 2, seemed virtually assured of the position after a close political battle among CIO unions.

Legal Action Hits Several Accused of Pro-Red Angles

(By The Associated Press)

Persons accused of being Communists or Red sympathizers were the targets of legal action on several fronts yesterday.

In Washington, Atty.-Gen. McGranery ordered a grand jury investigation of Owen Lattimore, Johns Hopkins University professor and one-time consultant to the State Department.

The proceedings will be concerned with whether Lattimore told the truth when he testified during a Senate Internal Subcommittee probe of Far East policy last spring. Lattimore has termed "fantastic" the subcommittee report accusing him of perjury.

Lattimore has been accused by Sen. McCarthy (R.-Wis.) of having been a Soviet espionage agent. The professor has vehemently denied ever having anything to do with communism.

McCarthy told reporters he assumed the Justice Department would follow up its grand jury investigation of Lattimore with similar action against career diplomat John P. Davies, Jr.

Davies, formerly on the State Department policy planning staff, now is deputy political adviser to U. S. occupation authorities in West Germany. The subcommittee contends Davies, too, testified falsely, which Davies denied.

Jobless Get War Duty

Hong Kong (AP) — A dispatch from Canton to the independent Kung Sheung Daily News says the Chinese Communists have organized 16,000 unemployed persons for service in Korea or Indo-China. The jobless, all of whom had been on public relief, were formed into teams of nurses, stretcher bearers, cooks and launderers, the account said. The paper also said several thousand other jobless were sent to labor camps on Hainan Island and in East Kwangtung province.

Saugerties Church Speaker on Friday

DR. WILLIAM W. AYER

Dr. William Ward Ayer, one of the most striking and interesting personalities of the American pulpit, will speak Friday, Dec. 5, at the First Baptist Church in Saugerties, according to an announcement made today by Dr. Montreville Seely, pastor.

A frequent visitor to Kingston where he has appeared several times as guest preacher at the First Baptist Church, Dr. Ayer now conducts the widely heard God's Truth Marches On radio program each Sunday over WJZ at 1 p. m.

After graduation from college and seminary, Dr. Ayer held pastorates in Gary, Ind., Hamilton, Ontario, Canada; and finally at the Calvary Baptist Church in New York. His pastorate in New York lasted 14 years.

During that time more than a million dollars was paid on the mortgage of the Calvary Church and the missionary giving increased from $42,000 per year to more than a quarter of a million dollars per year.

Has Visited Europe

Also during his pastorate in New York he made several preaching visits to Europe, Central and South America. Besides his regular college and seminary degrees, he holds a doctorate, conferred upon him by a leading southern university.

As a result of his unique ministry in New York, a radio poll listed him as the third most influential citizen in New York, ranking behind Cardinal Spellman and Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt.

Dr. Ayer's address will start at 7:45 o'clock Friday night. There will be no admission and all are invited to attend the special service.

Aid in Oil Production

New York (AP) — Flooding wells with carbonated water and plenty of brine can bring a third crop of oil from Pennsylvania sands, reports J. N. Breston, director of the production research laboratory of the Pennsylcania Crude Oil Association. The lower the temperature of the brine, Breston says, the bigger the crop. Carbon dioxide, either as gas or as "soda water," swells the oil volume as much as 50 per cent, reduces density, viscosity and surface tension of the crude, tests have revealed.

Jobless Get War Duty

Hong Kong (AP) — A dispatch from Canton to the independent Kung Sheung Daily News says the Chinese Communists have organized 16,000 unemployed persons for service in Korea or Indo-China. The jobless, all of whom had been on public relief, were formed into teams of nurses, stretcher bearers, cooks and launderers, the account said. The paper also said several thousand other jobless were sent to labor camps on Hainan Island and in East Kwangtung province.

Saugerties Church Speaker on Friday

DR. WILLIAM W. AYER

Dr. William Ward Ayer, one of the most striking and interesting personalities of the American pulpit, will speak Friday, Dec. 5, at the First Baptist Church in Saugerties, according to an announcement made today by Dr. Montreville Seely, pastor.

A frequent visitor to Kingston where he has appeared several times as guest preacher at the First Baptist Church, Dr. Ayer now conducts the widely heard God's Truth Marches On radio program each Sunday over WJZ at 1 p. m.

During that time more than a million dollars was paid on the mortgage of the Calvary Church and the missionary giving increased from $42,000 per year to more than a quarter of a million dollars per year.

Has Visited Europe

Also during his pastorate in New York he made several preaching visits to Europe, Central and South America. Besides his regular college and seminary degrees, he holds a doctorate, conferred upon him by a leading southern university.

As a result of his unique ministry in New York, a radio poll listed him as the third most influential citizen in New York, ranking behind Cardinal Spellman and Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt.

Dr. Ayer's address will start at 7:45 o'clock Friday night. There will be no admission and all are invited to attend the special service.

Aid in Oil Production

New York (AP) — Flooding wells with carbonated water and plenty of brine can bring a third crop of oil from Pennsylvania sands, reports J. N. Breston, director of the production research laboratory of the Pennsylcania Crude Oil Association. The lower the temperature of the brine, Breston says, the bigger the crop. Carbon dioxide, either as gas or as "soda water," swells the oil volume as much as 50 per cent, reduces density, viscosity and surface tension of the crude, tests have revealed.

BEHIND THE TINSEL

Tinsel, holly, bright ribbons, and tissue paper are strewn from one end of our house to the other. Packages are piled up ready to be carried to the post office or delivered in the neighborhood. Cards are stacked on the desk, some ready to be mailed, others waiting until we check the addresses of roving friends.

It's probably the same at your house and, like us, you love every minute of the final holiday rush. But in all the gaiety we must not forget the true meaning of this great celebration. One way that we express the deeper significance of Christmas at our house is by using Christmas Seals on all our packages and cards. These colorful Seals express our good wishes for the health and happiness of all our neighbors, whether known or unknown to us, because they are helping the fight against tuberculosis being waged in our town by the Ulster County Tuberculosis Association. When we buy Christmas Seals we know that we are doing something concrete to make those wishes come true.

Tuberculosis kills more people than all other infectious diseases combined. The Christmas Seal is a great weapon against this killer. For almost fifty years the tuberculosis associations throughout the country have been fighting tuberculosis. The fight is bringing results. The death rate is being forced down. But there are still 400,000 active cases of tuberculosis in this country and it ranks first among diseases as a cause of death among young people from 15 to 35 years of age. The fight must go on.

This year we are using more Christmas Seals than ever. We hope you will do the same at your house.

Early to bed and late to rise is the most relaxing, and late to bed and early to rise the most painful. But early to bed and early to rise is the great happy medium.

SOME FOLKS SEE A WAY OUT

Years ago an unsung American committed suicide by hanging himself from the chandelier in his living room. On a table beside his body lay an open book he evidently had been reading before he took the fatal step. The title—"How to Fill Out Your Income Tax."

Since his day we've all become a lot more accustomed to that painful tax ritual than many of us thought we could. But to a vigorous minority the annual bout with Uncle Sam's tax forms still seems a good way to manufacture inferiority complexes.

Apparently somebody has lately been delving into psychology. The psychologists, of course, always talk about "conditioning" people to the things they encounter in life. It has now occurred to this someone to condition the American citizen to the job of making out his tax bill. The method—teach him in high school.

That's it. Students are going to get practice in high school at filling out the forms they will in later life come to know so well.

Well, maybe it will work with some. But there's a considerable fraternity which disagrees with the idea that only death and taxes are inescapable. This group would limit the inevitables to one category alone.

The new houses without any attics must create a difficult problem. They have no stairways on which to stack tons of odds and ends.

HISTORY REPEATS ITSELF

Does the world just go round and round in a circle without getting anywhere? A British historian of the opening of Japan a century ago discovered that in 1855 Sir John Bowring, the British governor of Hongkong, was warning the Foreign Secretary against the Russians. They were, he said, steadily building up positions in Northeastern Asia which might soon enable them to dominate Japan, Korea and North China. That was in 1855. In 1952 we have the same fear.

Now, however, in the United Nations we have at least, a forum in which open discussion can be held.

'These Days'

HOUSE CLEANING

The new Attorney General, Herbert Brownell, Jr., will undoubtedly be pressed by so-called liberals to let the subversive cases die a natural death without further excitement. However, Russian espionage never ceases because it is a normal weapon of Soviet imperialism. Therefore, in spite of all efforts made heretofore to clean house, new vermin constantly make their appearance.

House cleaning is a permanent job that can never end. Nor can a house be cleaned by hiding the dust, silverfish and roaches under the carpet. It has been the policy of the Department of Justice to cover up. It had the facts from the FBI but would not use them. Attorney General McGranery has been making an effort but his term has been short and his assistants inadequate and dilatory.

I want to quote an example from the McCarran Committee to show how deeply set is the espionage activity of the American citizens. The deponent is Eugene Wallach, a stenotypist employed by the United Nations. According to the committee's counsel, Robert Morris, Wallach has been an open member of the Communist Party. So Senator Homer Ferguson asked him this question:

"As a member of the Communist Party, would you say, if a man was a member, he was an espionage agent?

"Mr. Wallach. Sir, under the Fifth Amendment to the United States Constitution I decline to answer that question.

"Senator O'Conor. Have you ever been engaged in any subversive activities against the United States Government?

"Mr. Wallach. Sir, under the Fifth Amendment to the United States Constitution I must decline to answer that question. I don't consider that—well, my answer stands at that."

An American is entitled under the Constitution to claim immunity from self-incrimination. He is free to avoid perjury by insisting that the Fifth Amendment to the Constitution gives him the right to refuse to answer at all on the ground that to answer truthfully would be a confession of guilt. While exercising that right, the deponent has no way of preventing other citizens from accepting such a defense as an admission of anything from an error of judgment to participation in a crime.

When a man is asked, for instance, whether he is now engaged in espionage against his own country and he cannot answer "No!" without danger of being held for perjury if nothing worse, then he has admitted guilt in the eyes of the public even if the guilt cannot be proved by the rules of evidence in a court. And whenever there is a conflict between public opinion, in such a country as ours, and judicial decision, public opinion prevails.

Herbert Brownell, Jr., as Attorney General, will face this situation. The propaganda against the Smith Act and the McCarran Act by so-called liberals, who are really acting as protectors of Communists and other subversives, does not count for much because public opinion demands an immediate house cleaning as regards Communists, subversives and other vermin. That is one reason why Eisenhower was elected. The liberal-minded gentle folks who would let subversives remain in our government to preserve some doctrinaire position can well be disregarded as American public opinion is against them and will remain so.

The Republican Administration has no alternative but to pursue the course of house cleaning, because the people expect it. The record is clear that Communists, subversives and opportunists have entered the government because someone opened the door and let them in. Often the door opener is a very proper person, who could not even be suspected of an ideological position left of Calvin Coolidge, but who, for all his stuffiness, opened the door.

There are just as many Republicans of this kind as there are Democrats, and the stuffier they are, the more likely they will be of developing a vested interest in their first mistakes. To such men, "face" is as important as it used to be to a mandarin. Some of our statesmen have that type of psychology that puts personal pride before common sense, and it is even truer among great industrialists turned politician.

Therefore, the role of Herbert Brownell, Jr., becomes increasingly important because this job can best be done in the Department of Justice where the FBI has the data. There it can be done swiftly, pro-forma and without dramatics. House cleaning should be a matter of routine as every woman knows.

That Body of Yours

FACTORS AFFECTING BLOOD PRESSURE

We hear less about operations these days as with use of the new drugs and latest surgical methods, the death rate has been greatly reduced. What we do hear most about is high blood pressure and the frequent attacks of brain strokes (apoplexy) and heart strokes (coronary thrombosis) due to high blood pressure.

While the individual with high blood pressure may always have high blood pressure, the height of the pressure may vary from day to day or even from hour to hour.

As there are so many patients with high blood pressure, it would be thought that the cause or causes would be well known but in his book "Control High Blood Pressure and Live Longer," Dr. Herman Pomeranz visiting physician, Manhattan General Hospial, states that the cause in 95 per cent of cases is unknown but that studies have been made of at least twenty factors which may influence the development of high blood pressure, but none of these is recognized as a cause.

Some of these factors are:

1. Age. 90 per cent of all high blood pressure patients are about the age of 40, but it can occur at any age.

2. Effect of animated speech—lecturing, public speaking and the like, may raise blood pressure.

3. Effect of position of arms. Raising and lowering the arms affects blood pressure from vertical to horizontal. Blood pressure is higher in the leg than the arm.

4. Body build. The stocky individual has a higher pressure than the slim or slender one.

5. Effect of the day. Blood pressure is lower in the morning than in the evening. Blood pressure is lower on a warm, humid day.

6. Emotion, Anger, fear, excitement, worry, general nervousness or other emotional influences greatly affect blood pressure, causing it to rise.

7. Environment or surroundings. The way we live in the home or at work influences blood pressure. Tenseness at home or work raises the blood pressure.

8. Effect of exercise. Severe muscular exercise has a tremendous influence in raising blood pressure. Immediately atfer the exercise, the pressure drops for a short time and then gradually rises to normal.

9. Heredity. About 40 per cent of the patients with high blood pressure, not due to kidney or other diseases, have a family history of high blood pressure.

10. Sleep. Blood pressure normall falls during restful and sound sleep, unless there are unpleasant dreams or nightmares.

11. Weight. Excess weight puts a strain on heart and blood-vessels and raises the blood pressure.

"But Thanks for Your Kind Thoughts, Boys"

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington — Though Senator Taft got credit for appointing his distant cousin, Ezra Taft Benson, as secretary of agriculture, actually it was another senator, Watkins of Utah, who worked backstage to put his fellow Mormon across.

Taft had first recommended Sen. Frank Carlson of Kansas to be secretary of agriculture—some said because he didn't want a man so close to Ike in the Senate where he, rather than Taft, would be viewed as Presidential spokesman.

Ike in turn told Carlson he could have the Agriculture Department if he wanted it, though he preferred having him operate from the vantage of the Senate.

So Carlson, who has never pushed himself forward, began pushing Congressman Clifford Hope of Kansas, chairman of the House Agriculture Committee, for the cabinet post instead. Meanwhile, Sen. Fred Seaton of Nebraska pushed retiring Gov. Val Peterson of Nebraska.

However, Allan Kline of the Farm Bureau was opposed to Congressman Hope because of Hope's views on parity, while Brother Milton Eisenhower had rowed with Hope when Milton was president of Kansas State College. Finally Gen. Wilton Persons pointed out that if Hope retired from the House Agriculture Committee, Congressman Andresen of Minnesota, a dairyman, would take over. This would be resented in the oleomargarine-minded south.

Meanwhile, with Carlson deciding to remain in the Senate, Senator Watkins of Utah persuaded Taft to get behind Benson, also of Utah. Taft cleared Benson with Milton Eisenhower, and the President-elect, figuring he couldn't go wrong with both his brother and Taft behind a man, appointed Benson.

The appointment, however, has already stirred up a lot of controversy among soil conservationists.

Note—By pushing Benson, Senator Watkins may have partly blocked Marriner Eccles, former New Dealer, now a stanch Republican, who ran against Watkins in the Utah primary, from getting any important job under Eisenhower: Eccles, former chairman of the Federal Reserve Board who won the undying enmity of Harry Truman, has been under consideration for an Eisenhower appointment; but no president can favor too many men from one state.

Millionaire Credit Risk???

Congressman Thurmond Chatham, North Carolina, Democrat whose family manufactures the famous Chatham blankets, tried to insert an ad, "for sale—by Democrat," in two well-known New York publications.

Chatham wanted to sell his Georgetown house, figured he could interest incoming Republicans by advertising in the Wall Street Journal and the New Yorker.

Replied Melville Price advertising manager of the New Yorker: "We acknowledge with thanks your check for $155.40. Both Jack Cogswell and I wish there was some way we could wack up the agency commission between us, what with the approach of Christmas and all. Of course, next year we won't need it when we have no more taxes to pay and pie in the sky."

But the staid Dall Street Journal regarded the "for sale by a Democrat" as a credit risk.

"Your ad as it now stands measures fourteen agate lines (the minimum for the real estate corner) and at the rate of $1.10 per line will cost $15.40 for one insertion," it wrote Chatham.

Then, to the scion of a family which operates one of the biggest textile plants in the south, the Wall Street Journal suspiciously concluded:

"If you are a subscriber, listed in Dun and Bradstreet, or have previously established credit with our firm, we shall be glad to open an account in your name. Otherwise, may we have payment with order?"

Note — Congressman Chatham was not defeated in the last election. He is merely moving from a smaller house into a bigger one, having bought the beautiful mansion once owned by the late James Forrestal for $187,000.

GOP Patronage

General Eisenhower had a significant meeting the other day with early Ike-booster Wes Roberts, who helped win various GOP primaries and who is now under consideration as new GOP national chairman.

Ike told Roberts that he was worried over the National Committee's future, wanted to strengthen both it and State GOP Committees planned to hand out plenty of patronage at below the rank of Cabinet. Jobs such as assistant secretaries of defense, army, navy, commerce, interior, treasury will be given out through state and national GOP Committees—provided the committees, in turn, come up with good men.

Eisenhower especially stressed the fact that the job-holders must have ability.

He also indicated that he wanted to use patronage to clean up certain local situations, such as that in Pennsylvania where bitter GOP factions have been at swords' points—Taft supporter Mason Owlett, Sen. Ed Martin, Gov. John Fine who had such a hard time making up his mind between Taft and Ike; and Sen. Jim Duff who boils over when Fine's name is mentioned.

Eisenhower said he wanted to strengthen Duff, make him the real Republican leader of Pennsylvania. In brief, Fine is now going to bask in the sunshine of Ike's smile.

Note—The general did not say who he wants to become new GOP chairman, replacing Arthur Summerfield; but the three top men under consideration are Roberts, Wayne Hood, and Ralph Cake of Oregon.

Two Vacant Jobs

Congressman John Taber, New York Republican, will fire two investigators for the House Appropriations Committee the minute he becomes chairman of that committee January 20—provided they're not fired first.

John Donnelly, chief committee investigator, was sent to North Africa to probe air-base scandals by the present committee chairman, Democrat Clarence Cannon of Missouri. While in Europe, Donnelly engaged Tim Donovan, who not only had a criminal record, but was working for the Atlas Corporation, one of the companies Donovan and Donnelly were investigating.

According to Congressman Taber, Donovan and Donnelly even had the gall to try to work a tax dodge. The first he heard about the employment of Donovan, says the chairman-to-be, was "when Mr. Donnelly wanted to pay Donovan through the Atlas Corporation so he could dodge tax and not have it deducted.

"I told the acting clerk that I was not chairman of the committee, but that if I were chairman, I would not only terminate Mr. Donovan, but I would order Mr. Donnelly home on termination."

Note—The two investigators also ran through $2,500 expense money in less than a month.

Durkin Appointment May Bring Unity Between Labor, Management, Solidify Nation

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Dec. 3—Naturally the Democrats are gleeful over the first evidence of a rift between Senator Taft and President-elect Eisenhower. This came with the Ohio senator's comment that the selection of Martin P. Durkin as secretary of labor was "an incredible appointment." But the effects of the controversy may well be to strengthen rather than weaken General Eisenhower's efforts to promote harmony and unity in the country as a whole. It may even start a chain of events that could lead to a better understanding between labor and management.

Persons who are not familiar with Senator Taft's blunt way of expressing himself—and he never minces words—may read into his remarks a feeling of resentment, but actually the senator would be the first to say that it is the new President's right to pick his own cabinet.

From a tactical standpoint, Senator Taft was, in effect, making it clear that he isn't receding one bit in his position that the Taft-Hartley Act shall not be emasculated. Knowing that Mr. Durkin has favored its repeal, that he voted for Stevenson, and that he has been serving as the national president of an AFL union, it would be surprising if the Ohio senator embraced the new secretary of labor and uttered loud cheers over his appointment. In a way, Mr. Taft was declaring his independence. He is going to criticize when he thinks criticism is justified, and he is going to praise when he thinks praise is due.

No other man in America did more to insure the election of General Eisenhower than did Senator Taft. Had he sulked in the campaign, his followers would have sulked. The Republicans got their big electoral vote by swelling the total vote in Republican areas where organization work done by Taft followers counted heavily.

But the Ohio senator is too experienced in public affairs and too respectful of the prerogatives of a President to assume that he could direct and control the Chief Executive's cabinet appointments. To assume this would be to corroborate what the Stevenson spokesmen predicted during the campaign — that General Eisenhower would be the "captive" of Senator Taft and his forces.

Anyone who stops a moment to analyze objectively the political situation in which General Eisenhower finds himself today will have to agree that, with a cabinet consisting largely of representatives of big business and big finance, and containing two lawyers with a New York city financial background, he could hardly add as a secretary of labor a man who was known to be hostile to union labor.

The selection of Mr. Durkin from the ranks of trade unionism was a simple matter of political commonsense as well as balanced consideration of the different economic viewpoints that will be represented now in the new cabinet.

It is logical that Senator Taft should adopt a cautious position with respect to a cabinet member who had been pledged to outright repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act. It is significant that the new secretary of labor says he wants to bring both Senator Taft and trade-union leaders of the CIO and AFL into a conference to try to work out amendments to the existing labor-management law. This is always the right approach to the making of constructive labor legislation. Back in 1926 all the Railroad Brotherhood Unions and the executives of the railroads got together over a period of several weeks in conference with congressional leaders and worked out the Railway Labor Act of 1926. It was adopted by overwhelming vote of Republicans and Democrats. It was the first federal law that made collective bargaining compulsory on both management and labor. History might repeat itself—it may be that labor and management can do the same thing now.

Plainly the presence of a trade-union man in the cabinet makes possible an effective leadership by the new administration which could take the Taft-Hartley issue out of politics altogether, and that will be important in the congressional elections of 1954.

The many comments from CIO as well as AFL leaders who applaud the selection of Mr. Durkin indicate that General Eisenhower has taken a long step forward to promote harmony in the labor-management front. To have appointed someone with a distinctly anti-labor background would have ushered in a climate in which strikes and work stoppages and grievous friction between labor and management might have prevailed.

Senator Taft may really be more upset about the fact that some of his other recommendations for cabinet appointments were not accepted, and it was a bit easier to find fault with the naming of a Democrat and a trade unionist for the Department of Labor. In that area of public affairs, Mr. Taft has taken a firm position and the chances are that he need not worry too much about Mr. Durkin's possible influence in Congress because, when it comes to amending the Taft-Hartley Act, a majority of both Houses will stand solidly against a one-sided law.

There is a chance now for negotiating amendments and making a law satisfactory to both sides if the trade unions really want that kind of setup, and this remains to be seen. Mr. Durkin is the man who is really on the spot.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

I have never been as restless as I am right now under the arbitrary suppression of historic information and religious freedom in our country by a few individuals who have taken it upon themselves to strip the deck of the face-cards. I am not going to try to throw that egg into the electric fan yet, but I yield only to futility, not to any inhibition of my own.

It is tragic that this denial has been decreed because our people, though they might make mistakes in evaluating facts, certainly have the right to make their own mistakes. We are not good electors as we should confess when we look on the pitiful condition of the great City of New York, its dirt, waste and civic corruption after a series of "reform" mayors who were swept into office on tides of hatred, jealousy and fear, without the slightest consideration of competence.

Much important, fateful information, verified and owing to the public, is being withheld not only by papers but by radio and even pulpit. Some of the most powerful characters in this sinister period of history are not even mentioned as political forces. We venerate frauds whom we ridicule in our confidential discussions. Why do we do that? What the devil has got into us, anyway?

For one thing, we let ourselves get all balled up in an obsession about a mischief called "freedom of religion." As a result we are afraid to discuss religion at all. We are unconsciously developing a field-ration code of platitudes, not even formulated, which the people are submitting to but not accepting in any spiritual sense. This recipe meets all the objections of all sects to all other sects and none of the requirements of any.

Nobody is interfering with anybody's religion in our country. But from the professional clamor, you might think that all our alleys were jammed with fanatics waiting to slit the throats of heretics out of sheer bigotry. This is a racket as I have shown in detail in the case of the non-sectarian anti-Nazi League, which fitfully waves a bloody shirt to scare credulous people into giving it money to hoke up more scares to pay the salaries of a pack of investigators who boast of their nasty espionage on blameless American citizens. But this league is almost disposed of and my real concern in this discussion is the exploitation of a political phantom called religion which has absolutely no religious quality.

Never in our history have our people been so devilled by propaganda extolling religion as an abstract thing. But never have the real issues of religion, theology, validity, morals and the differences between sects been held in such fear. It is as though religion were a horrible force like the atom bomb, which only experts who qualify as experts by authority of private, unofficial authorities, may be allowed to deal with. Why not tell us religion is over our heads then?

We got a bad going over from the Methodist Board of Temperance, Prohibition and Public Morals through the agency of the short-coat Vatican just across the street from the old House building in Washington during prohibition. When it was over old Bishop Cannon had gone down the road into the setting sun, arm-in-arm with Henry L. Mencken, bawling Sweet Adeline, I figured that the

Tinsel, holly, bright ribbons, and tissue paper are strewn from one end of our house to the other. Packages are piled up ready to be carried to the post office or delivered in the neighborhood. Cards are stacked on the desk, some ready to be mailed, others waiting until we check the addresses of roving friends.

It's probably the same at your house and, like us, you love every minute of the final holiday rush. But in all the gaiety we must not forget the true meaning of this great celebration. One way that we express the deeper significance of Christmas at our house is by using Christmas Seals on all our packages and cards. These colorful Seals express our good wishes for the health and happiness of all our neighbors, whether known or unknown to us, because they are helping the fight against tuberculosis being waged in our town by the Ulster County Tuberculosis Association. When we buy Christmas Seals we know that we are doing something concrete to make those wishes come true.

Tuberculosis kills more people than all other infectious diseases combined. The Christmas Seal is a great weapon against this killer. For almost fifty years the tuberculosis associations throughout the country have been fighting tuberculosis. The fight is bringing results. The death rate is being forced down. But there are still 400,000 active cases of tuberculosis in this country and it ranks first among diseases as a cause of death among young people from 15 to 35 years of age. The fight must go on.

This year we are using more Christmas Seals than ever. We hope you will do the same at your house.

Early to bed and late to rise is the most relaxing, and late to bed and early to rise the most painful. But early to bed and early to rise is the great happy medium.

SOME FOLKS SEE A WAY OUT

Years ago an unsung American committed suicide by hanging himself from the chandelier in his living room. On a table beside his body lay an open book he evidently had been reading before he took the fatal step. The title—"How to Fill Out Your Income Tax."

Since his day we've all become a lot more accustomed to that painful tax ritual than many of us thought we could. But to a vigorous minority the annual bout with Uncle Sam's tax forms still seems a good way to manufacture inferiority complexes.

Apparently somebody has lately been delving into psychology. The psychologists, of course, always talk about "conditioning" people to the things they encounter in life. It has now occurred to this someone to condition the American citizen to the job of making out his tax bill. The method—teach him in high school.

That's it. Students are going to get practice in high school at filling out the forms they will in later life come to know so well.

Well, maybe it will work with some. But there's a considerable fraternity which disagrees with the idea that only death and taxes are inescapable. This group would limit the inevitables to one category alone.

The new houses without any attics must create a difficult problem. They have no stairways on which to stack tons of odds and ends.

HISTORY REPEATS ITSELF

Does the world just go round and round in a circle without getting anywhere? A British historian of the opening of Japan a century ago discovered that in 1855 Sir John Bowring, the British governor of Hongkong, was warning the Foreign Secretary against the Russians. They were, he said, steadily building up positions in Northeastern Asia which might soon enable them to dominate Japan, Korea and North China. That was in 1855. In 1952 we have the same fear.

Now, however, in the United Nations we have at least, a forum in which open discussion can be held.

'These Days'

HOUSE CLEANING

The new Attorney General, Herbert Brownell, Jr., will undoubtedly be pressed by so-called liberals to let the subversive cases die a natural death without further excitement. However, Russian espionage never ceases because it is a normal weapon of Soviet imperialism. Therefore, in spite of all efforts made heretofore to clean house, new vermin constantly make their appearance.

House cleaning is a permanent job that can never end. Nor can a house be cleaned by hiding the dust, silverfish and roaches under the carpet. It has been the policy of the Department of Justice to cover up. It had the facts from the FBI but would not use them. Attorney General McGranery has been making an effort but his term has been short and his assistants inadequate and dilatory.

I want to quote an example from the McCarran Committee to show how deeply set is the espionage activity of the American citizens. The deponent is Eugene Wallach, a stenotypist employed by the United Nations. According to the committee's counsel, Robert Morris, Wallach has been an open member of the Communist Party. So Senator Homer Ferguson asked him this question:

"As a member of the Communist Party, would you say, if a man was a member, he was an espionage agent?

"Mr. Wallach. Sir, under the Fifth Amendment to the United States Constitution I decline to answer that question.

"Senator O'Conor. Have you ever been engaged in any subversive activities against the United States Government?

"Mr. Wallach. Sir, under the Fifth Amendment to the United States Constitution I must decline to answer that question. I don't consider that—well, my answer stands at that."

An American is entitled under the Constitution to claim immunity from self-incrimination. He is free to avoid perjury by insisting that the Fifth Amendment to the Constitution gives him the right to refuse to answer at all on the ground that to answer truthfully would be a confession of guilt. While exercising that right, the deponent has no way of preventing other citizens from accepting such a defense as an admission of anything from an error of judgment to participation in a crime.

When a man is asked, for instance, whether he is now engaged in espionage against his own country and he cannot answer "No!" without danger of being held for perjury if nothing worse, then he has admitted guilt in the eyes of the public even if the guilt cannot be proved by the rules of evidence in a court. And whenever there is a conflict between public opinion, in such a country as ours, and judicial decision, public opinion prevails.

Herbert Brownell, Jr., as Attorney General, will face this situation. The propaganda against the Smith Act and the McCarran Act by so-called liberals, who are really acting as protectors of Communists and other subversives, does not count for much because public opinion demands an immediate house cleaning as regards Communists, subversives and other vermin. That is one reason why Eisenhower was elected. The liberal-minded gentle folks who would let subversives remain in our government to preserve some doctrinaire position can well be disregarded as American public opinion is against them and will remain so.

The Republican Administration has no alternative but to pursue the course of house cleaning, because the people expect it. The record is clear that Communists, subversives and opportunists have entered the government because someone opened the door and let them in. Often the door opener is a very proper person, who could not even be suspected of an ideological position left of Calvin Coolidge, but who, for all his stuffiness, opened the door.

There are just as many Republicans of this kind as there are Democrats, and the stuffier they are, the more likely they will be of developing a vested interest in their first mistakes. To such men, "face" is as important as it used to be to a mandarin. Some of our statesmen have that type of psychology that puts personal pride before common sense, and it is even truer among great industrialists turned politician.

Therefore, the role of Herbert Brownell, Jr., becomes increasingly important because this job can best be done in the Department of Justice where the FBI has the data. There it can be done swiftly, pro-forma and without dramatics. House cleaning should be a matter of routine as every woman knows.

That Body of Yours

FACTORS AFFECTING BLOOD PRESSURE

We hear less about operations these days as with use of the new drugs and latest surgical methods, the death rate has been greatly reduced. What we do hear most about is high blood pressure and the frequent attacks of brain strokes (apoplexy) and heart strokes (coronary thrombosis) due to high blood pressure.

While the individual with high blood pressure may always have high blood pressure, the height of the pressure may vary from day to day or even from hour to hour.

As there are so many patients with high blood pressure, it would be thought that the cause or causes would be well known but in his book "Control High Blood Pressure and Live Longer," Dr. Herman Pomeranz visiting physician, Manhattan General Hospial, states that the cause in 95 per cent of cases is unknown but that studies have been made of at least twenty factors which may influence the development of high blood pressure, but none of these is recognized as a cause.

Some of these factors are:

1. Age. 90 per cent of all high blood pressure patients are about the age of 40, but it can occur at any age.

2. Effect of animated speech—lecturing, public speaking and the like, may raise blood pressure.

3. Effect of position of arms. Raising and lowering the arms affects blood pressure from vertical to horizontal. Blood pressure is higher in the leg than the arm.

4. Body build. The stocky individual has a higher pressure than the slim or slender one.

5. Effect of the day. Blood pressure is lower in the morning than in the evening. Blood pressure is lower on a warm, humid day.

6. Emotion, Anger, fear, excitement, worry, general nervousness or other emotional influences greatly affect blood pressure, causing it to rise.

7. Environment or surroundings. The way we live in the home or at work influences blood pressure. Tenseness at home or work raises the blood pressure.

8. Effect of exercise. Severe muscular exercise has a tremendous influence in raising blood pressure. Immediately after the exercise, the pressure drops for a short time and then gradually rises to normal.

9. Heredity. About 40 per cent of the patients with high blood pressure, not due to kidney or other diseases, have a family history of high blood pressure.

10. Sleep. Blood pressure normall falls during restful and sound sleep, unless there are unpleasant dreams or nightmares.

11. Weight. Excess weight puts a strain on heart and blood-vessels and raises the blood pressure.

"But Thanks for Your Kind Thoughts, Boys"

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington — Though Senator Taft got credit for appointing his distant cousin, Ezra Taft Benson, as secretary of agriculture, actually it was another senator, Watkins of Utah, who worked backstage to put his fellow Mormon across.

Taft had first recommended Sen. Frank Carlson of Kansas to be secretary of agriculture—some said because he didn't want a man so close to Ike in the Senate where he, rather than Taft, would be viewed as Presidential spokesman.

Ike in turn told Carlson he could have the Agriculture Department if he wanted it, though he preferred having him operate from the vantage of the Senate.

So Carlson, who has never pushed himself forward, began pushing Congressman Clifford Hope of Kansas, chairman of the House Agriculture Committee, for the cabinet post instead. Meanwhile, Sen. Fred Seaton of Nebraska pushed retiring Gov. Val Peterson of Nebraska.

However, Allan Kline of the Farm Bureau was opposed to Congressman Hope because of Hope's views on parity, while Brother Milton Eisenhower had rowed with Hope when Milton was president of Kansas State College. Finally Gen. Wilton Persons pointed out that if Hope retired from the House Agriculture Committee, Congressman Andresen of Minnesota, a dairyman, would take over. This would be resented in the oleomargarine-minded south.

Meanwhile, with Carlson deciding to remain in the Senate, Senator Watkins of Utah persuaded Taft to get behind Benson, also of Utah. Taft cleared Benson with Milton Eisenhower, and the President-elect, figuring he couldn't go wrong with both his brother and Taft behind a man, appointed Benson.

The appointment, however, has already stirred up a lot of controversy among soil conservationists.

Note—By pushing Benson, Senator Watkins may have partly blocked Marriner Eccles, former New Dealer, now a stanch Republican, who ran against Watkins in the Utah primary, from getting any important job under Eisenhower. Eccles, former chairman of the Federal Reserve Board who won the undying enmity of Harry Truman, has been under consideration for an Eisenhower appointment; but no president can favor too many men from one state.

Millionaire Credit Risk???

Congressman Thurmond Chatham, North Carolina, Democrat whose family manufactures the famous Chatham blankets, tried to insert an ad, "for sale—by Democrat," in two well-known New York publications.

Chatham wanted to sell his Georgetown house, figured he could interest incoming Republicans by advertising in the Wall Street Journal and the New Yorker.

Replied Melville Price advertising manager of the New Yorker: "We acknowledge with thanks your check for $155.40. Both Jack Cogswell and I wish there was some way we could wack up the agency commission between us, what with the approach of Christmas and all. Of course, next year we won't need it when we have no more taxes to pay and pie in the sky."

But the staid Dall Street Journal regarded the "for sale by a Democrat" as a credit risk.

"Your ad as it now stands measures fourteen agate lines (the minimum for the real estate corner) and at the rate of $1.10 per line will cost $15.40 for one insertion," it wrote Chatham.

Then, to the scion of a family which operates one of the biggest textile plants in the south, the Wall Street Journal suspiciously concluded:

"If you are a subscriber, listed in Dun and Bradstreet, or have previously established credit with our firm, we shall be glad to open an account in your name. Otherwise, may we have payment with order?"

Note — Congressman Chatham was not defeated in the last election. He is merely moving from a smaller house into a bigger one, having bought the beautiful mansion once owned by the late James Forrestal for $187,000.

GOP Patronage

General Eisenhower had a significant meeting the other day with early Ike-booster Wes Roberts, who helped win various GOP primaries and who is now under consideration as new GOP national chairman.

Ike told Roberts that he was worried over the National Committee's future, wanted to strengthen both it and State GOP Committees planned to hand out plenty of patronage at below the rank of Cabinet. Jobs such as assistant secretaries of defense, army, navy, commerce, interior, treasury will be given out through state and national GOP Committees—provided the committees, in turn, come up with good men.

Eisenhower especially stressed the fact that the job-holders must have ability.

He also indicated that he wanted to use patronage to clean up certain local situations, such as that in Pennsylvania where bitter GOP factions have been at swords' points—Taft supporter Mason Owlett, Sen. Ed Martin, Gov. John Fine who had such a hard time making up his mind between Taft and Ike; and Sen. Jim Duff who boils over when Fine's name is mentioned.

Eisenhower said he wanted to strengthen Duff, make him the real Republican leader of Pennsylvania. In brief, Fine is now going to bask in the sunshine of Ike's smile.

Note—The general did not say who he wants to become new GOP chairman, replacing Arthur Summerfield; but the three top men under consideration are Roberts, Wayne Hood, and Ralph Cake of Oregon.

Two Vacant Jobs

Congressman John Taber, New York Republican, will fire two investigators for the House Appropriations Committee the minute he becomes chairman of that committee January 20—provided they're not fired first.

John Donnelly, chief committee investigator, was sent to North Africa to probe air-base scandals by the present committee chairman, Democrat Clarence Cannon of Missouri. While in Europe, Donnelly engaged Tim Donovan, who not only had a criminal record, but was working for the Atlas Corporation, one of the companies Donovan and Donnelly were investigating.

According to Congressman Taber, Donovan and Donnelly even had the gall to try to work a tax dodge. The first he heard about the employment of Donovan, says the chairman-to-be, was "when Mr. Donnelly wanted to pay Donovan through the Atlas Corporation so he could dodge tax and not have it deducted.

"I told the acting clerk that I was not chairman of the committee, but that if I were chairman, I would not only terminate Mr. Donovan, but I would order Mr. Donnelly home on termination."

Note—The two investigators also ran through $2,500 expense money in less than a month.

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Dec. 3—Naturally the Democrats are gleeful over the first evidence of a rift between Senator Taft and President-elect Eisenhower. This came with the Ohio senator's comment that the selection of Martin P. Durkin as secretary of labor was "an incredible appointment." But the effects of the controversy may well be to strengthen rather than weaken General Eisenhower's efforts to promote harmony and unity in the country as a whole. It may even start a chain of events that could lead to a better understanding between labor and management.

Persons who are not familiar with Senator Taft's blunt way of expressing himself—and he never minces words—may read into his remarks a feeling of resentment, but actually the senator would be the first to say that it is the new President's right to pick his own cabinet.

From a tactical standpoint, Senator Taft was, in effect, making it clear that he isn't receding one bit in his position that the Taft-Hartley Act shall not be emasculated. Knowing that Mr. Durkin has favored its repeal, that he voted for Stevenson, and that he has been serving as the national president of an AFL union, it would be surprising if the Ohio senator embraced the new secretary of labor and uttered loud cheers over his appointment. In a way, Mr. Taft was declaring his independence. He is going to criticize when he thinks criticism is justified, and he is going to praise when he thinks praise is due.

No other man in America did more to insure the election of General Eisenhower than did Senator Taft. Had he sulked in the campaign, his followers would have sulked. The Republicans got their big electoral vote by swelling the total vote in Republican areas where organization work done by Taft followers counted heavily.

But the Ohio senator is too experienced in public affairs and too respectful of the prerogatives of a President to assume that he could direct and control the Chief Executive's cabinet appointments. To assume this would be to corroborate what the Stevenson spokesmen predicted during the campaign—that General Eisenhower would be the "captive" of Senator Taft and his forces.

Anyone who stops a moment to analyze objectively the political situation in which General Eisenhower finds himself today will have to agree that, with a cabinet consisting largely of representatives of big business and big finance, and containing two lawyers with a New York city financial background, he could hardly add as a secretary of labor a man who was known to be hostile to union labor.

The selection of Mr. Durkin from the ranks of trade unionism was a simple matter of political commonsense as well as balanced consideration of the different economic viewpoints that will be represented now in the new cabinet.

It is logical that Senator Taft should adopt a cautious position with respect to a cabinet member who had been pledged to outright repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act. It is significant that the new secretary of labor says he wants to bring both Senator Taft and trade-union leaders of the CIO and AFL into a conference to try to work out amendments to the existing labor-management law. This is always the right approach to the making of constructive labor legislation. Back in 1926 all the Railroad Brotherhood Unions and the executives of the railroads got together over a period of several weeks in conference with congressional leaders and worked out the Railway Labor Act of 1926. It was adopted by overwhelming vote of Republicans and Democrats. It was the first federal law that made collective bargaining compulsory on both management and labor. History might repeat itself—it may be that labor and management can do the same thing now.

Plainly the presence of a trade-union man in the cabinet makes possible an effective leadership by the new administration which could take the Taft-Hartley issue out of politics altogether, and that will be important in the congressional elections of 1954.

The many comments from CIO as well as AFL leaders who applaud the selection of Mr. Durkin indicate that General Eisenhower has taken a long step forward to promote harmony in the labor-management front. To have appointed someone with a distinctly anti-labor background would have ushered in a climate in which strikes and work stoppages and grievous friction between labor and management might have prevailed.

Senator Taft may really be more upset about the fact that some of his other recommendations for cabinet appointments were not accepted, and it was a bit easier to find fault with the naming of a Democrat and a trade unionist for the Department of Labor. In that area of public affairs, Mr. Taft has taken a firm position and the chances are that he need not worry too much about Mr. Durkin's possible influence in Congress because when it comes to amending the Taft-Hartley Act, a majority of both Houses will stand solidly against a one-sided law.

There is a chance now for negotiating amendments and making a law satisfactory to both sides if the trade unions really want that kind of setup, and this remains to be seen, Mr. Durkin is the man who is really on the spot.

Glands Decline After 40, Cause Most Old Diseases

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
AP Science Reporter

Denver, Dec. 3 (AP)—Your glands start to get tired after 40, and that seems to be a main cause of old-age diseases, an expert on aging said today.

Sex glands, the thyroid, and adrenal glands don't produce as many hormones as they used to. These hormones are vital in utilization of body foodstuffs and in chemical reactions.

Their lack causes upsets, tends to help bring on hardened arteries, mental changes, muscle weakness and other troubles, Dr. William B. Kountz, Washington University Medical School in St. Louis, told the American Medical Association.

Giving extra amounts of hormones apparently can help offset the tired-glands trouble. It offers just one way of controlling or preventing some degenerative diseases, he said.

Can Cut Oxygen

Other kinds of exhaustion or tiring play their part, too. So may habits, your occupation. On habits, anything that cuts down on oxygen inside the body can act against good health, he said. Too much food or drink may do it. So may smoking, sleeping pills.

In older age, people often reduce the amount of protein foods they eat, and this can contribute to the breakdown changes of aging.

In the gland phase, sex glands seem to start the decline. Sex hormones are necessary for utilization of food substances within the body. But with age, the amount of sex hormones tends to decline.

Adrenal glands apparently try to put out sex hormones, to make up for the deficit. But this work puts a strain on the adrenals, and they don't produce as much of their own usual hormones, which are used in building up muscles and maintaining body vigor. The pituitary gland gets involved, too, and seems to tire.

The upshot is an upset in body functions, and in due time, diseases follow.

Tests can show what hormones or other chemicals the oldsters lack, and these lacks often can be offset, Dr. Kountz said.

2 Po'keepsie Agencies Are Fined as Violators

New York, Dec. 3 (AP)—The State Insurance Department announced yesterday that Superintendent Alfred J. Bohlinger had fined two Poughkeepsie, N. Y., insurance agencies $250 each on charges of violating the state insurance law.

The agencies were listed as the Graham Agency, Inc., 7 Newmarket street, and the William G. Shafer Agency, Inc., 2 Cannon street.

The announcement said "investigations • • • disclosed that the agencies had failed to keep their clients' premium monies separate from their other funds and that there were deficiencies in their accounts. • • • In both instances the deficiencies in the premium accounts have been eliminated."

Blaze on Ship Reported

Southampton, Eng., Dec. 3 (AP)—Firemen wearing smoke masks fought 45 minutes before putting out a fire today aboard the giant liner Queen Mary. The blaze, which started in a wardrobe in a "C" deck cabin, was discovered by a watchman aboard the liner which is now in drydock for her annual overhaul. Only slight damage was caused and Cunard Line officials said the big ship would be ready to return to transatlantic service Dec. 16 as scheduled.

Skylarks eat about six pounds of food a year.

State Says Illness Not Diphtheria

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 3 (AP)—A croup-like illness that caused the death of two children in Greenwood Lake, Orange county, was a "non-specific infection" and not diphtheria, the State Health Department says.

The medical name for the illness, a spokesman said yesterday, is laryngo-tracheo-bronchitis. It may be caused by various bacteria, or in some instances by a virus.

"There is no evidence at present that it is diphtheria," he added.

The symptoms include a croup-like cough, noise breathing, and shortness of breath.

The 160-pupil elementary school at Greenwood Lake was closed after the two children died. They were Donna Jeanne Gradalee, 5, and Thomas Flood, Jr., 3. Five other children were ill.

The Board of Education ordered the school closed until Monday, and sent a report on the illnesses to the health department here.

The department emphasized that a physician should be contacted at once if parents detected any of the described symptoms in their children.

Novelist Raps 1,000 Magazines

Washington, Dec. 3 (AP)—Novelist Margaret Culkin Banning today told House investigators that about 1,100 magazines sold on news stands have "no purpose except pictorial prostitution."

The 61-year-old writer from Duluth, Minn., testified before a special House committee investigating obscene literature.

The Congress members said they recognized her as an expert witness because of research she did for an article, "Filth on the Newsstands," published in the October issue of Reader's Digest.

Miss Banning told them there were 1,231 magazines being published currently and all but about 100 are classified as "girlies" which she regards as "vicious and provocative." There are about two billion copies of the "girlies" sold annually, she added.

For Provocation Only

"The news stands in America carry a display of sex provocation to be found nowhere else in the world," she said. "These magazines are not for fun, nor play, nor beauty but simply issued for straight provocation."

She found about 50 cities have taken action in the last three years to drive indecent literature off the news stands. The action usually stems from civic or religious groups.

Some of the lawmakers indicated favor for police censorship of all comics and pocket-sized books after hearing that is done in Detroit.

Two Men Hurt As Car Overturns

Two Ulster county employes of the Wallkill Medium Security Prison were injured when their car overturned near the entrance to the prison shortly before noon today.

August Weise, 19 Main street, Kingston, was admitted to Benedictine Hospital but hospital authorities were unable to ascertain how badly he was injured. The report said he suffered face and head lacerations.

The other injured man was James Anner of Hurley who is said to have received an arm injury. The report said, however, he was treated and dismissed from the hospital.

Reds Are Watched

London, Dec. 3 (AP) — Britain's undercover men are keeping a quiet watch on this nation's Communist sympathizers—right down to youths of 16. Just how the system works is a closely guarded secret. The Conservative Daily Graphic said today the super-security net was stretched across the nation after the atom bomb leakages to Russia which culminated in the sentencing of German-born Klaus Fuchs in 1950. Government spokesmen declined to comment or confirm the existence of the security net.

Air Force Fund Reported

Washington, Dec. 3 (AP) — The air force was reported today to be getting a 17½ billion dollar slice of a total $40,700,000,000 appropriation budget requested for the Defense Department in the next fiscal year. That estimate came from a well qualified but unidentifiable official source. It represents the money which the Defense Department is asking the White House and Congress to appropriate or authorize for contracts in the year beginning July 1, 1953.

Actions Continue

Continued yesterday afternoon and today in Supreme Court before Justice Elsworth and a jury was the two actions for negligence brought by Raymond Coles and Anthony and Lena Aulisio against The California Oil Company and others, an action to recover damages for an alleged leakage of gasoline tanks. The actions will probably take several days to complete the testimony.

Trooper's Condition 'Good'

The condition of State Trooper Charles Hand of Newburgh, who was injured yesterday morning when his automobile ran off Route 9W about three miles north of Catskill, was described today by Greene County Memorial Hospital, Catskill, as "good." Hand was returning to duty at the Ravena sub-station, where he is assigned, at the time of the accident.

Decision Is Reserved

New York, Dec. 3 (AP)—Federal Judge Sylvester J. Ryan has reserved decision on motions to invalidate the convictions of condemned atom spies Julius and Ethel Rosenberg. Ryan reserved decision yesterday after hearing arguments on the motions entered by attorneys for the Rosenbergs, who are scheduled to be electrocuted the week of Jan. 12.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Dec. 3 (AP)—Steady in a narrow range was the way the stock market acted today.

Prices moved around a point either way with small fractional changes the general rule.

Volume wasn't anything to get excited about and ran at a rate in the neighborhood of yesterday's 1,610,000 shares, which is relatively low for the kind of big markets that have been seen recently.

There was scacely a single major division that was anything but mixed. At the same time there was no outstanding group or individual activity.

Will Be Bright Christmas

Springfield, Vt., Dec. 3 (AP)—It's going to be a bright Christmas for Gary Smith, the three-year-old boy who remained in a coma 48 days after searchers found him locked in a unused ice box in his home. Mrs. Beatrice Taylor, proprietor of a convalescent home where little Gary has been recuperating, said today Gary has recovered his sight. He also fed himself for the first time yesterday, she said. Gary was found unconscious Aug. 9 huddled with his kitten inside the icebox where apparently he had accidentally locked himself while playing.

Parkers Pay $3,200

The city treasurer's office reported $3,200 collected on the city's parking meters in November. This was $400 less than in October of this year, and $150 more than in November, 1951.

Chicago Reporter Indicted Again

Washington, Dec. 3 (AP)—Ray Brennan, Chicago Sun-Times reporter, was indicted for a second time today on a charge of posing as a government official to get secret testimony given Senate crime investigators.

An earlier indictment was dismissed last week while under heavy attack from defense attorneys who contended it was defective. The case was presented to a second grand jury immediately.

The new indictment contains two counts, instead of the single count in the original indictment.

One count charges that Brennan, on or about Nov. 1, 1950 "with intent to defraud the Alderson Reporting Company," falsely pretended that he was office manager of the Senate Crime Investigating Committee and by that false representation attempted to obtain a transcript of the testimony of Chicago Police Captain Dan Gilbert.

Obtained Transcript

The second count, generally following the language of the first, alleges that Brennan "in such pretended character demanded and obtained" a transcript of Gilbert's testimony, "property of the Anderson Reporting Company, of the value of about fifteen dollars."

Gilbert had testified before the committee in secret session.

At the time, Gilbert was chief investigator for the Cook county (Chicago) state's attorney and was also the Democratic nominee for sheriff.

The Sun-Times published his testimony on Nov. 2, 1950.

McCarthy Expects Action Against Career Diplomat

Washington, Dec. 3 (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R.-Wis.) said today he assumed the Justice Department would follow up its grand jury probe of Owen Lattimore with similar action against career diplomat John P. Davies, Jr.

Atty.-Gen. James McGranery announced yesterday he had ordered evidence about Lattimore, a Johns Hopkins University professor and Far Eastern Affairs specialist, submitted to a grand jury here, beginning tomorrow.

The Senate Internal Security subcommittee recommended last July 2, after a year-long probe for any subversive influences on U. S. policies in the Far East, that perjury proceedings be brought against both Lattimore and Davies.

Davies, formerly on the State Department's policy planning staff, now is deputy political adviser to U. S. Occupation Authorities in West Germany.

McCarthy told reporters that presentation of Davies' case to a grand jury is "even more urgent" than Lattimore's case "because Lattimore has been thoroughly exposed while Davies is holding a top job in Germany."

Lattimore for a time was State Department consultant on Far Eastern affairs.

Crime Commission

"necessary to do business" during the period.

Items Not Deducted

Certain substantial items were not deducted as expenses on the company's income tax returns, Nolan said. The expenditures were legitimate, he declared, adding that during the period the firm did a $140,000,000 business.

"You can't conduct that much business on a shoestring," he said. "You've got to expend money to do business."

As the hearing wore on, Nolan said he believed the information on cash payments had "not the slightest effect on so-called crime on the waterfront." ....

The purpose of the commission's line of questioning was not immediately clear.

Suffers Scalp Wound In Head-on Collision

Irving Pall of Dunmore, Pa., required five sutures in his scalp following a head-on collision at 4:45 p. m. yesterday on Route 9W at Malden Corners, state police if the Kingston sub-station reported today.

Police said an automobile driven by Michael Ragonese, 31, of Saugerties, was in collision with a vehicle operated by Patricia Goghlen, 21, of Staten Island, when the two drivers were "confused by opposing headlights." The Ragonese car was traveling south and the other vehicle north, police reported. Pall, a passenger in the car driven by Miss Goghlen, was treated by a Saugerties physician.

Cpl. Bernard Herron, who investigated, arrested Ragonese as a non-licensed operator. Ragonese will appear before Justice of the Peace Glenn Myers in Saugerties this evening.

Kogon Charged With Law Violation

Seymour Kogon, 42, of 68 Van Deusen street, was arrested yesterday on a warrant executed by Detective Clarance Brophy, and charging a penal law violation dealing with the trading, swapping or exchanging of a firearm to a person not holding a license.

Kogon pleaded innocent today before City Judge Raymond J. Mino, through Charles Saccoman, his attorney, and the case was adjourned for a week. Bail of $250 was continued.

The information charges that the trading, swapping or exchanging took place between Kogon and William R. Pagan, of Cottekill, several months ago, and an automatic pistol is involved. Kogon, the police report said, operates a surplus store.

South Koreans Get Back Lost Ground

Seoul, Dec. 3 (AP)—Hard fighting South Korean troops slashed back at Chinese Communists on Pinpoint Hill today and regained most of the forward positions lost to the Reds earlier in the day.

Far behind the lines, U. S. F-86 Sabre jets shot down two Communist MIG-15s in an air battle over the Chongchon river. The U. S. Fifth Air Force said four Sabres were pitted against an equal number of Red warplanes.

Only Ground Action

The battle for Pinpoint, on the central Korean front, was the only major ground action reported.

The Chinese slammed up the icy slopes just before daybreak in their heaviest assault on the hill since Nov. 14. In a bitter hand-to-hand struggle fought in near-zero weather the Reds forced the South Korean defenders back and occupied allied caves and bunkers.

The South Koreans held fast to the crest of Pinpoint, dominant peak on Sniper Ridge. Allied artillery and air strikes pounded the Reds.

At 2 p. m. the ROKs opened their counterattack.

U. S. Eighth Army headquarters said they regained virtually all the lost positions and had pushed on down the slopes.

Driven Off by Artillery

The Chinese last night stabbed at Rocky Point, just east of Pinpoint Hill. They were driven off by allied artillery after an all-night fight.

U. S. Eighth Army headquarters said fighting elsewhere along the frigid 155-mile battle front was light. Only minor contacts were reported.

In the air war, B-26 Invaders last night struck at Communist supply lines. Pilots reported 110 Red trucks destroyed.

Fifteen B-29 Superforts from Okinawa attacked an airfield at Pyongyang, the North Korean capital. A rail yard and a Red headquarters in the area also were hit.

Novelist Raps 1,000 Magazines

Washington, Dec. 3 (AP)—Novelist Margaret Culkin Banning today told House investigators that about 1,100 magazines sold on news stands have "no purpose except pictorial prostitution."

The 61-year-old writer from Duluth, Minn., testified before a special House committee investigating obscene literature.

The Congress members said they recognized her as an expert witness because of research she did for an article, "Filth on the Newsstands," published in the October issue of Reader's Digest.

Miss Banning told them there were 1,231 magazines being published currently and all but about 100 are classified as "girlies" which she regards as "vicious and provocative." There are about two billion copies of the "girlies" sold annually, she added.

For Provocation Only

"The news stands in America carry a display of sex provocation to be found nowhere else in the world," she said. "These magazines are not for fun, nor play, nor beauty but simply issued for straight provocation."

She found about 50 cities have taken action in the last three years to drive indecent literature off the news stands. The action usually stems from civic or religious groups.

Some of the lawmakers indicated favor for police censorship of all comics and pocket-sized books after hearing that is done in Detroit.

Two Men Hurt As Car Overturns

Two Ulster county employes of the Wallkill Medium Security Prison were injured when their car overturned near the entrance to the prison shortly before noon today.

August Weise, 19 Main street, Kingston, was admitted to Benedictine Hospital but hospital authorities were unable to ascertain how badly he was injured. The report said he suffered face and head lacerations.

The other injured man was James Anner of Hurley who is said to have received an arm injury. The report said, however, he was treated and dismissed from the hospital.

Reds Are Watched

London, Dec. 3 (AP)—Britain's undercover men are keeping a quiet watch on this nation's Communist sympathizers—right down to youths of 16. Just how the system works is a closely guarded secret. The Conservative Daily Graphic said today the supersecurity net was stretched across the nation after the atom bomb leakages to Russia which culminated in the sentencing of German-born Klaus Fuchs in 1950. Government spokesmen declined to comment or confirm the existence of the security net.

Air Force Fund Reported

Washington, Dec. 3 (AP)—The air force was reported today to be getting a 17½ billion dollar slice of a total $40,700,000,000 appropriation budget requested for the Defense Department in the next fiscal year. That estimate came from a well qualified but unidentifiable official source. It represents the money which the Defense Department is asking the White House and Congress to appropriate or authorize for contracts in the year beginning July 1, 1953.

Actions Continue

Continued yesterday afternoon and today in Supreme Court before Justice Elsworth and a jury was the two actions for negligence brought by Raymond Coles and Anthony and Lena Aulisio against The California Oil Company and others, an action to recover damages for an alleged leakage of gasoline tanks. The actions will probably take several days to complete the testimony.

Trooper's Condition 'Good'

The condition of State Trooper Charles Hand of Newburgh, who was injured yesterday morning when his automobile ran off Route 9W about three miles north of Catskill, was described today by Greene County Memorial Hospital, Catskill, as "good." Hand was returning to duty at the Ravena sub-station, where he is assigned, at the time of the accident.

Decision Is Reserved

New York, Dec. 3 (AP)—Federal Judge Sylvester J. Ryan has reserved decision on motions to invalidate the convictions of condemned atom spies Julius and Ethel Rosenberg. Ryan reserved decision yesterday after hearing arguments on the motions entered by attorneys for the Rosenbergs, who are scheduled to be electrocuted the week of Jan. 12.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Dec. 3 (AP)—Steady in a narrow range was the way the stock market acted today.

Prices moved around a point either way with small fractional changes the general rule.

Volume wasn't anything to get excited about and ran at a rate in the neighborhood of yesterday's 1,610,000 shares, which is relatively low for the kind of big markets that have been seen recently.

There was scacely a single major division that was anything but mixed. At the same time there was no outstanding group or individual activity.

Will Be Bright Christmas

Springfield, Vt., Dec. 3 (AP)—It's going to be a bright Christmas for Gary Smith, the three-year-old boy who remained in a coma 48 days after searchers found him locked in a unused ice box in his home. Mrs. Beatrice Taylor, proprietor of a convalescent home where little Gary has been recuperating, said today Gary has recovered his sight. He also fed himself for the first time yesterday, she said. Gary was found unconscious Aug. 9 huddled with his kitten inside the icebox where apparently he had accidentally locked himself while playing.

Parkers Pay $3,200

The city treasurer's office reported $3,200 collected on the city's parking meters in November. This was $400 less than in October of this year, and $150 more than in November, 1951.

Chicago Reporter Indicted Again

Washington, Dec. 3 (AP)—Ray Brennan, Chicago Sun-Times reporter, was indicted for a second time today on a charge of posing as a government official to get secret testimony given Senate crime investigators.

An earlier indictment was dismissed last week while under heavy attack from defense attorneys who contended it was defective. The case was presented to a second grand jury immediately.

The new indictment contains two counts, instead of the single count in the original indictment.

One count charges that Brennan, on or about Nov. 1, 1950 "with intent to defraud the Alderson Reporting Company," falsely pretended that he was office manager of the Senate Crime Investigating Committee and by that false representation attempted to obtain a transcript of the testimony of Chicago Police Captain Dan Gilbert.

Obtained Transcript

The second count, generally following the language of the first, alleges that Brennan "in such pretended character demanded and obtained" a transcript of Gilbert's testimony, "property of the Anderson Reporting Company, of the value of about fifteen dollars."

Gilbert had testified before the committee in secret session.

At the time, Gilbert was chief investigator for the Cook county (Chicago) state's attorney and was also the Democratic nominee for sheriff.

The Sun-Times published his testimony on Nov. 2, 1950.

McCarthy Expects Action Against Career Diplomat

Washington, Dec. 3 (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R.-Wis.) said today he assumed the Justice Department would follow up its grand jury probe of Owen Lattimore with similar action against career diplomat John P. Davies, Jr.

Atty.-Gen. James McGranery announced yesterday he had ordered evidence about Lattimore, a Johns Hopkins University professor and Far Eastern Affairs specialist, submitted to a grand jury here, beginning tomorrow.

The Senate Internal Security subcommittee recommended last July 2, after a year-long probe for any subversive influences on U. S. policies in the Far East, that perjury proceedings be brought against both Lattimore and Davies.

Davies, formerly on the State Department's policy planning staff, now is deputy political adviser to U. S. Occupation Authorities in West Germany.

McCarthy told reporters that presentation of Davies' case to a grand jury is "even more urgent" than Lattimore's case "because Lattimore has been thoroughly exposed while Davies is holding a top job in Germany."

Lattimore for a time was State Department consultant on Far Eastern affairs.

Crime Commission

"necessary to do business" during the period.

Items Not Deducted

Certain substantial items were not deducted as expenses on the company's income tax returns, Nolan said. The expenditures were legitimate, he declared, adding that during the period the firm did a $140,000,000 business.

"You can't conduct that much business on a shoestring," he said. "You've got to expend money to do business."

As the hearing wore on, Nolan said he believed the information on cash payments had "not the slightest effect on so-called crime on the waterfront."

The purpose of the commission's line of questioning was not immediately clear.

Suffers Scalp Wound In Head-on Collision

Irving Pall of Dunmore, Pa., required five sutures in his scalp following a head-on collision at 4:45 p. m. yesterday on Route 9W at Malden Corners, state police if the Kingston sub-station reported today.

Police said an automobile driven by Michael Ragonese, 31, of Saugerties, was in collision with a vehicle operated by Patricia Goghlen, 21, of Staten Island, when the two drivers were "confused by opposing headlights." The Ragonese car was traveling south and the other vehicle north, police reported. Pall, a passenger in the car driven by Miss Goghlen, was treated by a Saugerties physician.

Cpl. Bernard Herron, who investigated, arrested Ragonese as a non-licensed operator. Ragonese will appear before Justice of the Peace Glenn Myers in Saugerties this evening.

Kogon Charged With Law Violation

Seymour Kogon, 42, of 68 Van Deusen street, was arrested yesterday on a warrant executed by Detective Clarance Brophy, and charging a penal law violation dealing with the trading, swapping or exchanging of a firearm to a person not holding a license.

Kogon pleaded innocent today before City Judge Raymond J. Mino, through Charles Saccoman, his attorney, and the case was adjourned for a week. Bail of $250 was continued.

The information charges that the trading, swapping or exchanging took place between Kogon and William R. Pagan, of Cottekill, several months ago, and an automatic pistol is involved. Kogon, the police report said, operates a surplus store.

South Koreans Get Back Lost Ground

Seoul, Dec. 3 (AP)—Hard fighting South Korean troops slashed back at Chinese Communists on Pinpoint Hill today and regained most of the forward positions lost to the Reds earlier in the day.

Far behind the lines, U. S. F-86 Sabre jets shot down two Communist MIG-15s in an air battle over the Chongchon river. The U. S. Fifth Air Force said four Sabres were pitted against an equal number of Red warplanes.

Only Ground Action

The battle for Pinpoint, on the central Korean front, was the only major ground action reported.

The Chinese slammed up the icy slopes just before daybreak in their heaviest assault on the hill since Nov. 14. In a bitter hand-to-hand struggle fought in near-zero weather the Reds forced the South Korean defenders back and occupied allied caves and bunkers.

The South Koreans held fast to the crest of Pinpoint, dominant peak on Sniper Ridge. Allied artillery and air strikes pounded the Reds.

At 2 p. m. the ROKs opened their counterattack.

U. S. Eighth Army headquarters said they regained virtually all the lost positions and had pushed on down the slopes.

Driven Off by Artillery

The Chinese last night stabbed at Rocky Point, just east of Pinpoint Hill. They were driven off by allied artillery after an all-night fight.

U. S. Eighth Army headquarters said fighting elsewhere along the frigid 155-mile battle front was light. Only minor contacts were reported.

In the air war, B-26 Invaders last night struck at Communist supply lines. Pilots reported 110 Red trucks destroyed.

Fifteen B-29 Superforts from Okinawa attacked an airfield at Pyongyang, the North Korean capital. A rail yard and a Red headquarters in the area also were hit.

Lower Voting Age Urged

Philadelphia (AP) — Judge Guy K. Bard thinks the voting age should be lowered because young men and women of today have far greater political knowledge than their parents or grandparents when they were young. "There are in this country today," the judge said, "influential leaders who prate of their confidence in the capacity of the rising generation yet they oppose every attempt to lower the voting age to 18 years."

Seldom Attack When Fed

Sharks and barracuda, which are often dangerous when found in the open ocean, seldom attack when they are fed regularly in captivity.

The Mikado Will Be Presented Here

The American Savoyards, one of the world's best known Gilbert and Sullivan operetta companies, has been booked by the Walter Reade Theatres to present The Mikado at the Broadway Theatre on Wednesday evening, December 10, beginning at 8:30.

The Savoyards, named for the famous Savoy Opera where Gilbert and Sullivan gained their fame, are directed by Dorothy Raedler, one of the nation's best known Gilbert and Sullivan authorities. The production of The Mikado will be full-scale, with full orchestra, elaborate scenery and fully costumed.

The Savoyards production will be presented by Charles L. Wagner, who gained a wide reputation for touring companies of grand opera which he organized and directed for many years. The same calibre cast, costuming and staging that characterized his opera presentations will be extended to The Mikado.

The Savoyards have won critical acclaim during the several seasons in which they have been touring internationally with The Mikado. Brooks Atkinson, critic of the New York Times said.

"Miss Raedler and her associates know the style of Savoy Opera, and they convey it skillfully. Their approach is musical. The opera is sung by young people with trained voices. But they also know that Savoy Opera is a satire on the stuffiness of the conventional operettas of Gilbert's time and on the manners of Victorian society. There is just the right touch of dry, mischievous formality in the acting. Altogether this is one of the most delightful entertainments the town affords."

Lower Voting Age Urged

Philadelphia (AP) — Judge Guy K. Bard thinks the voting age should be lowered because young men and women of today have far greater political knowledge than their parents or grandparents when they were young. "There are in this country today," the judge said, "influential leaders who prate of their confidence in the capacity of the rising generation yet they oppose every attempt to lower the voting age to 18 years."

Seldom Attack When Fed

Sharks and barracuda, which are often dangerous when found in the open ocean, seldom attack when they are fed regularly in captivity.

The Mikado Will Be Presented Here

The American Savoyards, one of the world's best known Gilbert and Sullivan operetta companies, has been booked by the Walter Reade Theatres to present The Mikado at the Broadway Theatre on Wednesday evening, December 10, beginning at 8:30.

The Savoyards, named for the famous Savoy Opera where Gilbert and Sullivan gained their fame, are directed by Dorothy Raedler, one of the nation's best known Gilbert and Sullivan authorities. The production of The Mikado will be full-scale, with full orchestra, elaborate scenery and fully costumed.

The Savoyards production will be presented by Charles L. Wagner, who gained a wide reputation for touring companies of grand opera which he organized and directed for many years. The same calibre cast, costuming and staging that characterized his opera presentations will be extended to The Mikado.

The Savoyards have won critical acclaim during the several seasons in which they have been touring internationally with The Mikado. Brooks Atkinson, critic of the New York Times said.

"Miss Raedler and her associates know the style of Savoy Opera, and they convey it skillfully. Their approach is musical. The opera is sung by young people with trained voices. But they also know that Savoy Opera is a satire on the stuffiness of the conventional operettas of Gilbert's time and on the manners of Victorian society. There is just the right touch of dry, mischievous formality in the acting. Altogether this is one of the most delightful entertainments the town affords."

To Donate Painting To Ulster County Home

New Paltz, Dec. 2—The New Paltz Art Association is undertaking two interesting projects. One is the donation of paintings to the county home. The home has recently been redecorated and the residents would like to have some pictures to adorn the walls. Miss Myra Gerald, president of the Art Association, has asked all members to contribute a picture. They will be displayed at the county home where the residents will choose the ones which they would like to keep.

The second project comes from a request by Kenneth Hasbrouck, secretary to the Monumental and Historical Society. He would like to have members of the association submit some designs suitable for street signs. They should be two feet by three feet and suitable for street signs to advertise the location of the old stone houses. All designs should be submitted to Hasbrouck by January 15. The officers of the M. and H. Society will select the designs to be used. They will be traced on wood and given back to the painter for the signature.

Argiro Discusses Art Of Mosaic Painting

New Paltz, Dec. 2—Professor Larry Argiro of the NPSTC Art Department presented an illustrated lecture to the Dutchess County Art Association meeting recently. His subject was the art of mosaic painting. He spoke of the decline of this craft in the 18th and 19th centuries when mosaics were used to imitate the qualities of fresco painting. Argiro traced the origin of mosaics from the Byzantine period through the Golden Age of the 4, 5, and 6 centuries. The Roman artist used the art in floor tiles as shown by the ruins of Pompeii.

Argiro is one of the few artists in America who have shown an interest in mosaic work. He hopes for a revival of this media of art. The little squares of colored glass form the design and lends itself to vibrant colors.

Colored slides were shown the different types of mosaics in this country which are greatly influenced by European tradition. Some slides were shown to depict recent attempts and experiments as conducted by Argiro in the past year. These slides were taken by Neil Croom of the college. The slides show the steps from a sketch to the final setting of the mosaic.

Athletic Insurance Is Discontinued at School

New Paltz, Dec. 2—Announcement has been made by the office of Frank Bugar, supervising principal of New Paltz Central School, that the board of education has discontinued athletic insurance on students participating in varsity athletics. The action was taken at the last board meeting, the announcement said, following a complete study of the insurance program of the school with considerable time spent specifically on athletic insurance.

The announcement further stated that the coverage over a period of years was so limited that very little, if any compensation was received by athletes involved in injuries. The board felt that the cost for such inadequate coverage could not be justified and gave a sense of security that did not exist. Cost of insurance that would give complete coverage would be prohibitive, according to the announcement.

Signs Himself Out

Edinburgh, Scotland, Dec. 3 (AP)—An expert safecracker broke out of Saughton jail here with a pen, authorities discovered today. Hugh Kelly Mannion—who three years ago broke into the same jail to rescue a friend—made good his escape by rewriting bail papers and calmly walking out the gates to freedom. It took 50 hours before the forgery was discovered. Officials said that Mannion, who was awaiting trial on safe-stealing charges, somehow got hold of another prisoner's bail bond in the sheriff's office and put his own name on it.

Athletic Insurance Is Discontinued at School

New Paltz, Dec. 2—Announcement has been made by the office of Frank Bugar, supervising principal of New Paltz Central School, that the board of education has discontinued athletic insurance on students participating in varsity athletics. The action was taken at the last board meeting, the announcement said, following a complete study of the insurance program of the school with considerable time spent specifically on athletic insurance.

The announcement further stated that the coverage over a period of years was so limited that very little, if any compensation was received by athletes involved in injuries. The board felt that the cost for such inadequate coverage could not be justified and gave a sense of security that did not exist. Cost of insurance that would give complete coverage would be prohibitive, according to the announcement.

Principal Bugar Will Speak in Los Angeles

New Paltz, Dec. 2—The board of education of New Paltz Central School has announced that Supervising Principal Frank Bugar will speak at the meeting of the National Association of Secondary School Principals in Los Angeles, Calif., February 24. His topic will be Current Concepts of the Activity Program in Secondary Schools. "We are pleased with the recognition given our school through this request for Mr. Bugar to talk," said a spokesman for the board of education.

Might Be Tough

Santa Cruz, Calif., Dec. 3 (AP)—Patients at the Santa Cruz County Hospital got $20,000 worth of meat yesterday. It wasn't in preparation for any holiday feast. And the meat isn't likely to be tender. It consisted of 91 valuable fighting cocks seized Sunday in a raid.

Male ostriches may be 8 feet high and weigh 300.

Signs Himself Out

Edinburgh, Scotland, Dec. 3 (AP)—An expert safecracker broke out of Saughton jail here with a pen, authorities discovered today. Hugh Kelly Mannion—who three years ago broke into the same jail to rescue a friend—made good his escape by rewriting bail papers and calmly walking out the gates to freedom. It took 50 hours before the forgery was discovered. Officials said that Mannion, who was awaiting trial on safe-stealing charges, somehow got hold of another prisoner's bail bond in the sheriff's office and put his own name on it.

Change in Menu

South Otselic, N. Y., Dec. 3 (AP)—The Chamber of Commerce in this Chenango county village will hold its annual deer dinner Saturday. The chamber changed the menu but declined to say why. It said the reason might come out at an "alibi hour" to be held by village deer hunters following the meal. Instead of vension, the chamber will serve roast beef.

By SOPHIE MILLER

Mrs. John Olsen of Esopus sent me a note and a newspaper clipping. It was sent to her by a former neighbor of hers from Altoona, Pa. The clipping reads in part thus: "Harrisburg, Pa. Bull fight was staged with girl matador. Henry W. Shoemaker, president of the Pennsylvania Folklore Society, state museum, Harrisburg, today said a bull fight with a girl matador was staged in Pike county in colonial times. The matador was Aldonza Gunsaullus (Gonzales) only daughter of the old Lutheran Duke Abraham Gunsaullus, who fled with his family to America when the Spanish inquisition confiscated his estates and exiled him, Shoemaker said."

The item then reads: "Settling at Esopus, in Ulster county, New York, they found a settlement of Spaniards, Jews, Dutch, Germans and Huguenots. Eventually these settlers began to drift across the Delaware river into northeastern Pennsylvania in the area now comprising Pike, Susquehanna and Wayne counties. In Ulster county, the old duke soon became a power. For years his family in Spain had been breeders of fine bulls, big, black, long-horned Petrillo stock. Eventually he had some of these bull calves shipped to him in America."

Shoemaker further relates: 'These bulls accompanied the family on its trek into Pennsylvania and the duke formulated a plan to stage a bull fight in their new home to please their new neighbors, the Indians. His son, Manuel, was his most skilled matador but one of the bulls tossed Manuel from his horse and broke Manuel's leg. So instead of delaying the Spanish fiesta, Aldonza, the second best matador in the family persuaded her father to allow her to perform instead of one of her brothers. Only one of the bulls was to be killed, the vicious beast which had upset Manuel and broken his leg. The brass knobs were removed from the tips of his horns and he was led into the ring."

"Aldonza, attired in red velvet, with a red beret and mounted on a Spanish charger rode into the ring followed by her brothers who were clad in blue and gold costumes with broad-brimmed hats. . . . At the blowing of the horn Aldonza dismounted and engaged the bull finally dispatching him with a fatal stab from her espada. The duke arose and donated the carcass to the Indians. . . . The Indian braves in their enthusiasm carried Aldonza around the ring on their shoulders amid wild cheers from the audience. The Indian squaws never witnessing such an event before fought with each other in an effort to obtain bits of her colorful Spanish regalia as a scuvenir. Her brothers had to rescue her and throw a cloak around her."

This event so far as known in Pennsylvania folklore and history is the only formal bull fight on Pennsylvania soil. At the time it made the entire Spanish duke's family very popular with the Indians. Perhaps local historians know something about the Gonzales family (Duke Abraham Gunsaullus) when they lived in Esopus. Shoemaker does not give the year of the event. Perhaps some of the readers may know about this event.

Outlaw King Captured

Karachi, Pakistan (AP) — Superstition has cost Pakistan's outlaw king his liberty. Mohammad Rahim, captured without a fight in his hideout, confessed to police they caught him only because the hooting of an owl caused him to abandon a projected trip the night of their raid. "Everyone knows you shouldn't carry on with your plans if you hear the sound of an owl," he told his captors. Mohammad Rahim, who claims to be king of the Hurs, a Sind provincial tribe which began an anti-British movement in 1912, had a reward of $7,500 on his head.

BOOK REVIEW

To further increase interest in the Kingston Library the following review by Mrs. G. Cramer Dodge is published.

WHICH GRAIN WILL GROW
By H. H. Lynde
433 pp

This is a story about the growth or deterioration in that part of their lives between the end of World Wars 1 and 2 of six main and several minor characters in a small town near Yakima, Wash. Like most small towns, Columbia City has its upper and lower levels, both socially and geographically. The one main business section is down near the river, with the lesser houses scattered along the river flats, while the more pretentious homes are built on the surrounding hillsides —houses and owners looking down upon their poorer neighbors.

At least some of them do, although lovely high-spirited Phillipa Hollister, daughter of a highly successful surgeon, doesn't bother about small social distinctions. Her father's big house has always been a gathering place for the young people of the town, while her brothers and sisters were home and now that they have scattered the crowds continue to come drawn by her generous, magnetic personality and flawless social sense. Phil's most intimate friend is Ann Saxon, just home from college and now living with her sister, Cornelia, wife of Columbia City's wealthiest citizens and their little daughter, Mary. Ann's delicate, fragile coloring is a perfect foil for Phil's dark, dramatic beauty and gives added charm to each when they are together, as they are most of the time.

Others who play important roles in the story are Chris Barlow, son of a well-to-do manufacturer in New Jersey, who after two years in Princeton and two in his father's factory after his return from World War 1 decided he couldn't either return to college nor keep on at the factory, and so set out to tour the country in his old Reo, taking jobs as needed and just drifting as he dearly liked to do. An unlucky poker session the night he reached Columbia City with Ellis Arthur, a worthless and unscrupulous gambler and general smoothie, to whom Chris had given a lift at Arthur's request, made it necessary for him to take a job and stay for awhile—quite awhile as it turned out and mostly to his advantage and great happiness—for a few years—with the girl whom he came to love dearly.

Ellen Jones (Elaine, as she calls herself) is ticket seller at the motion picture house. She is quite a picture herself in her little glass cage, and is a most adroit and scheming little person in using her semi-public position to learn everything she can about people and events in the town and turn each contact to her own personal social and material advancement. Just now she is Pete Malleck's best girl because he was the only one she knew when she first came to Columbia City. Sturdy, unattractive Pete is at the foot of Columbia City's social ladder with little hope nor desire to climb except for what he can do to attract Elaine, whom he ardently desires. Pete lives in a dingy little house on the flats with his stern, well-meaning mother, his shiftless father and his drab sister, Stella. Pete has come over from Yakima, where he works for a weekend with his family and a date with Elaine and has just about decided to stay and take a job in Columbia City to be near Elaine when fate decides for him. First he learns that Stella has been betrayed by Ellis Arthur, so he has to help his father settle that problem. In so doing he misses his date with Elaine—incidentally that gives Ralph Robbins, Pete's cousin and lazy, spoiled only son of a local haberdasher and his social climber wife a chance for a rebound with Elaine. They have a fine time, even by clever maneuvering on the part of Elaine, getting themselves invited to join with Chris Barlow the charmed circle of Phillipa's Sunday evening at home. Thus laying the groundwork for Elaine's next step to social stability by way of Ralph Robbins.

The second event which nailed Pete securely to his home was his father's stroke which occurred later that fateful Sunday. After an unsuccessful try at auto salesmanship, Pete settles down to a humdrum but permanent job in a hardware store. He helps his mother care for his helpless father until he dies, then cares for his mother until she dies; meantime helping Stella and her baby when her phony husband deserts her.

Not quite in this young group because she is about 10 years older is the librarian, Amy Pritchard, with the beautiful, tragic blue eyes. Amy is the victim of her mean, domineering father, who has repeatedly driven off every eligible male who so much as looked at his daughter with interest. After her father's death, Amy in a spirit of bravado lived openly and luxuriously as mistress of wealthy old Mr. Wilson, the automobile dealer, and after his death cooked up with Mr. Wilson's invalid widow quite a neat dish of revenge without the least loss of dignity or prestige on the part of either of them.

That is just one of the amazing surprises which this spellbinding novel presents when, after an absence of 17 years, Chris, now a very successful executive comes back, unwillingly, to be lionized at a large party given by his sister-in-law, Cornelia McKinnon, and her daughter, Mary.

It is risky and often very sad to come back after a long absence and pick up loose threads of friendship — and so it was for Chris. Except for his re-unions with good, dependable Pete Malleck; with Phillipa (mother of four and poor but serenly happy) and finally and most satisfactorily with Mary McKinnon. These are unforgettable scenes in a magnificent novel.

You Know Something About This Man!

You've never seen him before.

And yet, as you watch him approach his motor car—you feel instinctively that you know something about this man.

You feel you know something of his background and his standing among his fellow men. You sense his consideration for the safety of his family and his friends. And you have a clear indication of the mark he has made in his chosen field of endeavor.

For that's one of the extraordinary things about the Cadillac car: It speaks so eloquently of the man who owns and drives it.

It does so from its long association with the world's distinguished motorists . . . and out of its constant participation in the lives of the nation's leading people.

In every community across the land, Cadillac is the predictable choice of those who choose without restriction.

And how well they choose—and how wisely!

For the Cadillac car—as any owner can tell you—is surpassingly satisfying from every standpoint.

Smooth, powerful and responsive—it makes each and every journey a pleasure to anticipate and a joy to experience.

Beautiful, luxurious and inspiring—it adds to the pleasure and satisfaction of the whole day's activities.

And dependable, long-lived and economical in operation—it compliments its owner's practical wisdom through every marvelous mile he drives.

Wouldn't it be wonderful to enjoy all these things in your motor car? Well then . . . come in and see us. We'd be delighted to see you at any time.

Hint Given by Jet Pilot Turns to Truth

Fairfield, Calif., Dec. 3 (AP)—A navy jet pilot, Ens. Marvin S. Cohn of Portland, Ore., was cited for automobile speeding here Nov. 4 while awaiting shipment to Korea.

Justice of the Peace Georgia Crowley received a letter from Cohn two weeks ago saying:

"I will be unable to appear in court as my ship has sailed for Korean waters...

"However I would caution you to submit any financial claims rapidly, because jet flying, especially in the Korean theatre, has turned out to be hazardous." And he mentioned the possibility of the justice receiving "an 'addressee deceased' letter in return..."

Judge Crowley sent a request that the fine be paid. It came back yesterday stamped "addressee deceased." Across a corner of the letter was scribbled:

"Ens. Cohn was killed in his jet plane when it crashed aboard the U.S.S. Philippine Sea Nov. 18 while on training maneuvers."

In San Francisco, Cohn's sister, Mrs. A. B. Sanford, confirmed the report of his death.

Gifts for War Victims

Manila (AP)—A world-wide drive to collect Christmas packages for civilian war victims in South Korea had been launched by the Philippine Junior Chamber of Commerce. Packages collected by Jaycee chapters will be shipped to Tokyo headquarters of the organization for forwarding to Korea.

Husband Dies in Korea as He Writes

Mrs. Frank D'Ermilio holds her six-weeks-old son, Frank, Jr., after she was notified in Philadelphia that her husband, a Marine infantryman was killed as he sat inside a bunker in Korea, writing a letter home, asking more questions about the son he had never seen. The Marine died as a sliver from an enemy mortar shell whipped through a tiny observation slit in the bunker, killing him instantly. The commanding officer of the 21-year-old Marine said his death was one of those "million-to-one shots."

School Now Communist

San Francisco (AP) — Famous Tsinghau University in Peiping, founded by U. S. generosity and kept going for years with the help of American endowments, is now a Communist school for training engineers. A recent Peiping broadcast recorded here reported that 6,000 students enrolled at the reopening of Tsinghau. All arts and literature courses have been transferred to other universities in Peiping. Tsinghau will teach only technical subjects.

Wichita, Kan. (AP) — Wichita University's wind tunnel — research and educational project of the engineering school — has government and industrial experimental contracts extending through 1954.

New Technique Gives Red Cells to Donor

Philadelphia, Dec. 3 (AP)—A blood transfusion technique now under experiment would return to a blood donor the red cells taken from his body.

Dr. Joseph Stokes, Jr., physician-in-chief at Children's Hospital, said the process is based on the principle used to separate cream from milk. A centrifuge whirls the freshly drawn blood at tremendous speed separating the plasma from the blood. Then the blood is re-injected into the donor.

Stokes said the method will increase the supply of gamma globulin, the fraction of blood that protects against polio and some other diseases.

Return of the red blood cells may make possible as many as 50 transfusions a year from an individual instead of the five or six now believed to be the safe maximum.

Parallel experiments are under way, Stokes said, to increase the potency of the extractable gamma globulin content of the blood by giving a harmless shot of polio virus.

Ten times all the blood collected last year is needed to meet requirements for protecting every child of polio-susceptible age with gamma globulin, another staff physician stated. That amounts to a pint of blood from each eligible donor in the United States.

The first guns were made in the first quarter of the 14th century.

Philadelphia, Dec. 3 (AP)—A blood transfusion technique now under experiment would return to a blood donor the red cells taken from his body.

Dr. Joseph Stokes, Jr., physician-in-chief at Children's Hospital, said the process is based on the principle used to separate cream from milk. A centrifuge whirls the freshly drawn blood at tremendous speed separating the plasma from the blood. Then the blood is re-injected into the donor.

Stokes said the method will increase the supply of gamma globulin, the fraction of blood that protects against polio and some other diseases.

Return of the red blood cells may make possible as many as 50 transfusions a year from an individual instead of the five or six now believed to be the safe maximum.

Parallel experiments are under way, Stokes said, to increase the potency of the extractable gamma globulin content of the blood by giving a harmless shot of polio virus.

Ten times all the blood collected last year is needed to meet requirements for protecting every child of polio-susceptible age with gamma globulin, another staff physician stated. That amounts to a pint of blood from each eligible donor in the United States.

The first guns were made in the first quarter of the 14th century.

It's always Winter in your refrigerator... that's why Ballantine Beer is brewed for flavor that chill can't kill

When you're on your way to see the ice hockey game—on your own TV set—you've just time to make a quick stop—at the refrigerator—for a nice cold bottle of beer.

Now, here's a friendly suggestion: Make it a nice cold bottle of Ballantine Beer.

Here's beer that keeps its fine flavor even when served ice cold.

Ballantine Beer is deep-brewed for flavor!

For lightness, yes! For dryness, of course! But first, last, and always, Ballantine brews for flavor—the fine, full flavor that chill can't kill.

BALLANTINE BEER

As Pegler Sees It

religious inclinations of our people had at last been relieved of a nuisance which gave Protestantism a bad name.

But since the New Deal began we have seen a bold development of religious Big Shotism. Insensibly we have been put under a compulsion to keep our traps shut by people who, to my knowledge, are no more religious than Stalin.

I am not referring to communists. I mean "leaders," "celebrities," the changing roster of those who are listed "among those present" at the big interfaith sweetbread and breast-of-pheasant clambakes at the Waldorf and other hotels which have made big business of the "tolerance" banquet trade. At these hypocritical compulsories, poor little lawyers, doctors and businessmen have to dig up $100 a ticket for charities decreed upon them. They feel as I do about this, but what can they do? They grumble about it in private but they don't dare say a word on the phone or in unreliable company for fear of reprisals including, at the worst, that horrible scarlet letter "bigot."

Never in our history has our press blabbed so much about religion and religious "freedom" and shown so little moral courage in jumping skittishly away from the faintest suggestions of intelligent religious discussion. We must all revere a fantasy called religious "freedom," but we mustn't examine any religion. And throughout this pushful imposition of our intelligence, our dignity and our very souls by a lot of ignoble salesmen out to sell a harmless "package," the civic and public morals of our country have slid into corruption. This decline took place under political adventurers who have been hand-in-glove with the trustees of religion all this time. This is a bad record.

It isn't the people who are afraid of religion, afraid to be religious, to study and discuss religion. The people are forbidden to. They are supposed to accept, in lieu of noble example, the patronage of a standing roster of prominent dress-up characters who hire speeches written and think they are getting away with it just because they get their pictures in the papers.

Mere publicity isn't religion. If there is any merit at all to the idea that people are capable of thought, then the people of the United States must be pondering the fact that no other political administration in our career as a nation ever made such a row about religion, rallied such a congress of holy-Joes to do its public relations or even approached these depths of every single phase of Godlessness.

All this evil was wrought with the constant ministrations of a self-appointed corps who hadn't the fidelity to look their political hosts and cohorts dead in the eye and tell them they ought to spend the rest of their lives on their knees.

The recent Metropolitan Bridge Championships, held in New York, turned out to be a family romp for Eddie and Rose Loewenthal. Eddie won the Men's Pair and the Open Pair events with two different partners, while his wife, Rose, landed fourth in the Women's Pair event and fourth also with Eddie in the Mixed Pair event.

Part of the reason for this magnificent showing may be seen from the way they bid and played today's hand.

There was nothing timid about the bidding, to be sure. Eddie had to use his best rose-colored glasses to find his bid of three spades, but Rose didn't need any special glasses to accept this invitation to game.

West opened the ace of clubs, and Eddie took the trick immediately with dummy's ace for fear that West had a singleton. After drawing trumps with the ace and king, declarer led a club towards his queen. East hopped up with the king and got out safely with another club to declarer's queen.

The contract obviously depended on winning a trick with dummy's queen of hearts, but Loewenthal was in no hurry to try for this trick. Instead he led a diamond, allowing East to win with the nine.

The defenders were likewise in no hurry to tackle the hearts. Both sides were right, of course, since it would have cost a trick to begin the suit. East continued the diamonds, and South ruffed. Declarer next entered dummy with the eight of spades in order to ruff out dummy's last diamond, thus setting the stage for the throw in.

Loewenthal led a low heart from his hand and finessed the eight from dummy. East was able to win with the jack of hearts, but was then on the spot. If he returned a heart, declarer would let it ride to the queen. If East returned a diamond or a club, declarer would get a ruff and a discard. Either way, nothing could stop Loewenthal from making his ambitious game contract.

C of C Sends Out Nominating Lists

The nominating ballots and active membership lists will be mailed to all Kingston Chamber of Commerce members today. They will be asked to nominate seven members of their choice, for the office of director for a term of three years.

This year the terms of Chester A. Baltz, Jr., Emil G. Boessneck, Pratt Boice, Joseph F. Deegan, Raymond W. Garraghan, Lawrence J. MacAvery and Henry Singer expire. Under the By-laws they are not eligible for re-election.

In addition to the 14 directors who remain in office, the list contains the names of 362 active voting members of the Kingston Chamber of Commerce. The list bears the heading "Save for reference—do business with fellow boosters of Kingston." The difference between the listed names and the total paid memberships is accounted for by duplicate membership subscribed for by many firms. Although more than four memberships at $25 each are paid for annually the By-Laws permit only the listing of four voting members.

The 1952 election committee is composed of Emil G. Boessneck, chairman; Bert Bishop, James G. Connelly, John Ross and George Silkworth. They will meet Dec. 18, and count the ballots. The names of the 14 persons receiving the highest number of nominating ballots will be placed on an election ballot to be sent out about Jan. 1.

In making this announcement today Boessneck called attention to a provision which suggests that various types of business, professions and parts of the city be kept in mind in making nominations. The 14 remaining directors represent a wide variety of interests. They are: for one year; B. C. Anderson, L. V. Bogert, Edward M. Huben, Maynard Mizel, Lawrence A. Quilty, Elmer Rylance and George N. Shivery, and for two years; Harry J. Beatty, Clarence H. Buddenhagen, C. Robert Cousins, Deweese W. DeWitt, Howard C. St. John, George W. Schneider and Walter G. Williams.

C of C Sends Out Nominating Lists

The nominating ballots and active membership lists will be mailed to all Kingston Chamber of Commerce members today. They will be asked to nominate seven members of their choice, for the office of director for a term of three years.

This year the terms of Chester A. Baltz, Jr., Emil G. Boessneck, Pratt Boice, Joseph F. Deegan, Raymond W. Garraghan, Lawrence J. MacAvery and Henry Singer expire. Under the By-laws they are not eligible for re-election.

In addition to the 14 directors who remain in office, the list contains the names of 362 active voting members of the Kingston Chamber of Commerce. The list bears the heading "Save for reference—do business with fellow boosters of Kingston." The difference between the listed names and the total paid memberships is accounted for by duplicate membership subscribed for by many firms. Although more than four memberships at $25 each are paid for annually the By-Laws permit only the listing of four voting members.

The 1952 election committee is composed of Emil G. Boessneck, chairman; Bert Bishop, James G. Connelly, John Ross and George Silkworth. They will meet Dec. 18, and count the ballots. The names of the 14 persons receiving the highest number of nominating ballots will be placed on an election ballot to be sent out about Jan. 1.

In making this announcement today Boessneck called attention to a provision which suggests that various types of business, professions and parts of the city be kept in mind in making nominations. The 14 remaining directors represent a wide variety of interests. They are: for one year: B. C. Anderson, L. V. Bogert, Edward M. Huben, Maynard Mizel, Lawrence A. Quilty, Elmer Rylance and George N. Shivery, and for two years: Harry J. Beatty, Clarence H. Buddenhagen, C. Robert Cousins, Deweese W. DeWitt, Howard C. St. John, George W. Schneider and Walter G. Williams.

WSB Says Bonus Above $40 Can Be Paid Under Law

The Wage Stabilization Board policy of not requiring approval for Christmas and year-end bonuses which do not exceed $40 does not necessarily mean that bonuses above this amount do require Board approval, it was stated today by Arthur J. White, Chairman, Region 2 (New York State and Northern and Central New Jersey).

White said that the WSB Regional Office is receiving numerous inquiries on this point. He explained that bonuses above $40 do not require WSB approval, if they conform to the requirements of its General Wage Regulation 14 which was issued in 1951.

This regulation, which deals with bonuses, permits within certain limitations the continuance of bonus payments in accoordance with established plans or practices in effect prior to the wage freeze on January 25, 1951. The regulation is still in force, White pointed out, and bonus payments which were made in accordance with it in 1951 may be continued in 1952 without board approval.

Employers who have had no previous practice or plan of granting Christmas or year-end bonuses, or whose plans do not conform to the requirements of Regulation 14, may not grant bonuses in excess of $40 without prior board approval, White said. He advised employers who are in doubt as to the applicability of the regulation to their own bonus plans to communicate with the Board's Regional Office at 346 Broadway, New York.

Starts His Sentence

Miami, Fla., Dec. 3 (AP)—Reuben Clein, publisher of the weekly Miami Life, entered Dade county jail just before midnight last night to begin serving 30 days for contempt of court. Clein was sentenced on Feb. 13, 1950, for refusing to tell how he obtained information on secret grand jury hearings. Since that time, Gov. Fuller Warren granted 11 reprieves. "I might as well get it over with," Clein said. "I'm not the first newspaperman to go to jail rather than reveal his source of information."

'Dawn of New Era'

Memphis, Dec. 3 (AP)—White and Negro educators from 11 southern states met for the first time yesterday in a joint session of their professional associations. Delegates to the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools (white) and the Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools met in a Negro church. Speakers of both races hailed the unsegregated conference as the "dawn of a new era in the South." Both associations are holding their annual conventions here. It was announced that the same standards of accreditation will henceforth apply for schools in both organizations.

Weather Halts Work

Anchorage, Alaska, Dec. 3 (AP)—Bad weather yesterday prevented operations by 10th Rescue Squadron crews seeking to reach the smashed remains of a C-124 that crashed into a mountain peak Nov. 22, killing 52 persons aboard. Meanwhile, flyers in 15 planes reported they found no trace of a C-119 Flying Boxcar which disappeared Nov. 15 on a flight from Anchorage to Kodiak with 20 men aboard.

Mt. Mitchell in western North Carolina is the highest peak in the eastern part of the United States, rising to 6,684 feet.

Marbletown Central School Open House Attracts 800 Guests

Open house was enjoyed Monday night at the new Marbletown Elementary Central School. The entire faculty, staff and board of education were on hand to greet more than 800 visiting parents and friends of the Marbletown Central School District. Included among the guests were many people from Kingston, Hurley, Accord, Cottekill, and New Paltz.

The new elementary school which consists of 10 classrooms, science, arts and crafts, cafeteria, kitchen, combination gymnasium and auditorium, dental, health, teachers, shower and physical education rooms, was enthusiastically viewed by all.

Each class room was attractively and individually decorated by the students and teachers. Various individual projects as well as Thanksgiving and Christmas themes added to the variety of the decorations. After touring the building the guests enjoyed refreshments served in the cafeteria.

At the close of the evening a brief program was held in the auditorium with accordion selections by Joyce Davis and Joan Stokes, students of the school. Peter Knudsen also sang a solo, Danny Boy. Marbletown Central School Open House Attracts 800 Guests

Open house was enjoyed Monday night at the new Marbletown Elementary Central School. The glamor of perfumes in their unusual and classic shaped bottles, soaps, bath oils, colognes, sachets and body powders are designed to please the tastes of every woman. A mailman's pouch bag—made of glove-tanned cowhide with washable plastic lining—will make a particularly popular gift (upper left). It is fitted with a golden plaid compact and lipstick in a special outside compartment. Always a favorite feminine present is the completely equipped nail care kit that features all the preparations necessary to keep hands looking lovely (lower left). To compliment a woman's beautiful hair, give her a dresser set. One handsome combination includes lucite hair brush (new crescent style) with white, heavy nylon bristles, round mirror, and heavy eight-inch comb to match (lower center). For present-giving in the grand manner, you'll find a brilliant French perfume in an exquisite crystal glass urn and an ermine dusting powder box filled with a perfectly blended fragrance (lower right). Versatile Christmas packaging and a wide price range add to these holiday attractions.

(Author of 'Etiquette,' 'Children Are People,' etc.)

THE OFFICE PARTY

A situation that each year causes distress to many wives is described in the following letter: "When a Christmas party is being given by a business organization after working hours, isn't it improper not to include the wives and husbands of the married employes? Every year my husband's company gives a large party, usually at one of the hotels, at which there is drinking and dancing. These parties generally last until quite late. I, as well as many of the other wives, resent this and do not think our husbands should go, but they feel it would be unwise, for business reasons, not to. I would very much appreciate hearing from you about this as it is causing a good deal of unhappiness."

If any outsiders at all are included at the party, then the wives and husbands should certainly be invited. But if it is just for the employes and no one else, it would be unreasonable to protest against a practice that is followed by many business offices at the Christmas season. In fact, I think it would be very difficult for your husband not to go and stay for at least a reasonable length of time without running the risk of being thought henpecked.

"Father Tom"

Dear Mrs. Post: The son of very good friends of ours is in the seminary studying for the priesthood. He will finish his training soon and will celebrate his first Mass here. I have known this young man all of his life and have always called him Tom. Will you please tell me what to call him after he becomes a priest.

Answer: It would be lacking in proper respect to call him Tom. But it would be quite proper for old friends to call him "Father Tom."

Too Impersonal for Christmas

Dear Mrs. Post: Could it be considered proper to address the envelopes of Christmas cards on the typewriter, or must they be addressed by hand?

Answer: This is just one time when the effort of writing a short address by hand cannot be avoided. A typewritten address is too impersonal for the spirit of Christmas.

Fragrance Tops Beauty Gift List

Nothing quite replaces the personal touch of a beauty gift. The glamor of perfumes in their unusual and classic shaped bottles, soaps, bath oils, colognes, sachets and body powders are designed to please the tastes of every woman. A mailman's pouch bag—made of glove-tanned cowhide with washable plastic lining—will make a particularly popular gift (upper left). It is fitted with a golden plaid compact and lipstick in a special outside compartment. Always a favorite feminine present is the completely equipped nail care kit that features all the preparations necessary to keep hands looking lovely (lower left). To compliment a woman's beautiful hair, give her a dresser set. One handsome combination includes lucite hair brush (new crescent style) with white, heavy nylon bristles, round mirror, and heavy eight-inch comb to match (lower center). For present-giving in the grand manner, you'll find a brilliant French perfume in an exquisite crystal glass urn and an ermine dusting powder box filled with a perfectly blended fragrance (lower right). Versatile Christmas packaging and a wide price range add to these holiday attractions.

THE OFFICE PARTY

A situation that each year causes distress to many wives is described in the following letter: "When a Christmas party is being given by a business organization after working hours, isn't it improper not to include the wives and husbands of the married employes? Every year my husband's company gives a large party, usually at one of the hotels, at which there is drinking and dancing. These parties generally last until quite late. I, as well as many of the other wives, resent this and do not think our husbands should go, but they feel it would be unwise, for business reasons, not to. I would very much appreciate hearing from you about this as it is causing a good deal of unhappiness."

If any outsiders at all are included at the party, then the wives and husbands should certainly be invited. But if it is just for the employes and no one else, it would be unreasonable to protest against a practice that is followed by many business offices at the Christmas season. In fact, I think it would be very difficult for your husband not to go and stay for at least a reasonable length of time without running the risk of being thought henpecked.

"Father Tom"

Dear Mrs. Post: The son of very good friends of ours is in the seminary studying for the priesthood. He will finish his training soon and will celebrate his first Mass here. I have known this young man all of his life and have always called him Tom. Will you please tell me what to call him after he becomes a priest.

Answer: It would be lacking in proper respect to call him Tom. But it would be quite proper for old friends to call him "Father Tom."

Too Impersonal for Christmas

Dear Mrs. Post: Could it be considered proper to address the envelopes of Christmas cards on the typewriter, or must they be addressed by hand?

Answer: This is just one time when the effort of writing a short address by hand cannot be avoided. A typewritten address is too impersonal for the spirit of Christmas.

zone designation for John B. Pfleghaar, 482-86 Albany avenue, and John W. Martin for a property at 487-89 Albany avenue. It referred to the laws and rules committee an application for a zoning change made through Attorney Joseph Avis for Jennie Silverman, to change from residential to business property at 567-69 Albany avenue.

The latter property, the attorney said, is now partly in the residential area.

The council last month voted down the Halwick-Evans, Martin-Moran applications following protests by residents of the Roosevelt Park area. Hearings were held Nov. 25 on the Pfleghaar and John W. Martin applications, which were unopposed, but one by Mildred F. Cates for a property at 451 Albany avenue was opposed because it bordered Manor Place.

No Report Given

The committee did not report on this application, nor on that of James E. Snead for a property at 455 Albany avenue. The latter application was unopposed at the Nov. 25 hearing. The Salay application for the property at 17 Pearl street was approved.

The aldermen voted to make permanent after 60 days of trial, regulations making Thomas street one-way between Broadway and the new access street, but permitting no left turn off Broadway into Thomas street; prohibiting parking on Broadway for 270 feet on both sides of the railroad overpass, and keeping synchronized the traffic lights on Broadway at O'Neil street, Cornell street and Pine Grove avenue.

Claim for $3,000 Made

Attorney Howard C. St. John filed a claim of $3,000 made by Wesley Clearwater, of 12 Washington avenue in behalf of Margaret Clearwater, who, the claimant says, was struck and injured by a city truck at Broadway and Thomas street.

Attorney William H. Grogan filed a claim by Sarah Caffrey, of 442 Hasbrouck avenue, for injuries suffered in a fall on the sidewalk in front of the municipal auditorium last Nov. 3.

Both were referred to the corporation counsel.

Tenth Ward Alderman James K. Ryan asked that a provision be made in the 1953 budget for operation of the School No. 8 property as a recreation center.

Ryan said 500 residents of the 10th and 11th wards have indicated their desires to have the property used for recreational purposes, and he recalled that his predecessor James J. Carroll and himself, have attempted to gain satisfactory action.

The alderman held that the city is not keeping pace with its "growing juvenile population" and he asked that the mayor be directed to include a sum in the next budget so that the school property may be used for recreation.

To Discuss Complaint

Alderman Thomas Coughlin, seventh ward, complained that despite a 1949 ordinance directing full payment for polling place rentals including primary days, recent payments were not made in full. Alderman-at-Large Joseph Kelly directed City Clerk Bernhardt Kramer to discuss the complaint with Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk. Coughlin said an extra day was due this year.

The aldermen voted to add delinquent water rents on general tax bills, and also to place on the tax roll a bill of $415.98 for furnishing and laying of curbing at 36-44 Grand street, the property (former Ruzzo Bowlatorium) owned by The 23-27 Grand Street Corp.

Attorney Sherwood E. Davis complained to the aldermen that he had filed a claim for Mary Grabiec, of 55 Murray street, for property damage, at the end of last summer, and had received no answer. The damage, he said, was caused by a defective sewer. Alderman Ryan said he recalled that the claim was referred to the corporation counsel, and Alderman-at-Large Kelly directed the city clerk to contact the corporation counsel for a report on the claim.

A letter from Mayor Newkirk informing the aldermen of his reappointment of George L. Chilson, 24 Delta Place, to the Kingston Housing Authority, for five years, was read and filed.

Asks Traffic Study

Alderman David Schechter, sixth ward, offered a resolution asking a study of traffic conditions on East Strand between Hasbrouck avenue and Broadway; Alderman Martin W. Golden, ninth ward, asked for a traffic control light at Foxhall avenue and Broadway, and a stop-sign at Mary's avenue and Pine Grove avenue.

Alderman Joseph Wenzel, fourth ward, asked for a street light at 97 First avenue, and one at 103 Gross street, and Alderman Robert Cullum, 12th ward, asked for a light at Merritt and Court avenues, and for the changing of a parking area to a no parking area extending 50 feet on the west side of Main street from Green street toward Washington avenue, and 25 feet on the east side of Main street from Green street toward Washington avenue.

Alderman-at-Large Kelly introduced to the councilmen high school pupils from the second, third, fourth and sixth wards, who sat on the rostrum with him to observe proceedings. Those from the second ward were Glen McDonough, Enno Treier, William O'Connor, and Kay Mustaparta. Nancy Silvestri was from the third ward, Ronald Sember from the fourth, and Richard Stanley, sixth ward.

Snake Bite Unnoticed

Broadus, Mont. (AP) — Morton Drane puts a rattlesnake bite in the same category as a bee sting —hardly worth botherin' with. A rattler bit him while he was lifting a well-casing. He didn't see the snake, but later noticed two tiny holes in his arm. He felt nausea and called a doctor. After anti-venom shots, Drane was back to normal.

Flees Chicken Job

Billings, Mont. (AP) — A 16-year-old boy ran away from a job of plucking chickens for his father. "I just can't stand the smell of hot water and chickens," the boy said later.

Alderman Thomas Coughlin, seventh ward, complained that despite a 1949 ordinance directing full payment for polling place rentals including primary days, recent payments were not made in full. Alderman-at-Large Joseph Kelly directed City Clerk Bernhardt Kramer to discuss the complaint with Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk. Coughlin said an extra day was due this year.

The aldermen voted to add delinquent water rents on general tax bills, and also to place on the tax roll a bill of $415.98 for furnishing and laying of curbing at 36-44 Grand street, the property (former Ruzzo Bowlatorium) owned by The 23-27 Grand Street Corp.

Attorney Sherwood E. Davis complained to the aldermen that he had filed a claim for Mary Grabiec, of 55 Murray street, for property damage, at the end of last summer, and had received no answer. The damage, he said, was caused by a defective sewer. Alderman Ryan said he recalled that the claim was referred to the corporation counsel, and Alderman-at-Large Kelly directed the city clerk to contact the corporation counsel for a report on the claim.

A letter from Mayor Newkirk informing the aldermen of his reappointment of George L. Chilson, 24 Delta Place, to the Kingston Housing Authority, for five years, was read and filed.

Asks Traffic Study

Alderman David Schechter, sixth ward, offered a resolution asking a study of traffic conditions on East Strand between Hasbrouck avenue and Broadway; Alderman Martin W. Golden, ninth ward, asked for a traffic control light at Foxhall avenue and Broadway, and a stop-sign at Mary's avenue and Pine Grove avenue.

Alderman Joseph Wenzel, fourth ward, asked for a street light at 97 First avenue, and one at 103 Gross street, and Alderman Robert Cullum, 12th ward, asked for a light at Merritt and Court avenues, and for the changing of a parking area to a no parking area extending 50 feet on the west side of Main street from Green street toward Washington avenue, and 25 feet on the east side of Main street from Green street toward Washington avenue.

Alderman-at-Large Kelly introduced to the councilmen high school pupils from the second, third, fourth and sixth wards, who sat on the rostrum with him to observe proceedings. Those from the second ward were Glen McDonough, Enno Treier, William O'Connor, and Kay Mustaparta. Nancy Silvestri was from the third ward, Ronald Sember from the fourth, and Richard Stanley, sixth ward.

Snake Bite Unnoticed

Broadus, Mont. (AP) — Morton Drane puts a rattlesnake bite in the same category as a bee sting —hardly worth botherin' with. A rattler bit him while he was lifting a well-casing. He didn't see the snake, but later noticed two tiny holes in his arm. He felt nausea and called a doctor. After anti-venom shots, Drane was back to normal.

Flees Chicken Job

Billings, Mont. (AP) — A 16-year-old boy ran away from a job of plucking chickens for his father. "I just can't stand the smell of hot water and chickens," the boy said later.

Wiltwycks, Cerasaro Cagers Win Opening Games in YMCA League

Motormen Trounce Economy, 72-31

The YMCA Winter League launched its 1952-53 season last night, but not until bad traveling conditions almost wiped out the opening slate.

Wiltwyck Motors was able to field its regular crew and spanked Economy Construction, 72-31, in a game halted early in the fourth period.

The Economy cagers started the fourth period with four players and when Charlie Tiano fouled out early in the quarter the Economys were reduced to three men and an automatic forfeit.

Big Bill Kleine, a 20-point average shooter in all his games this fall, bucketed 23 for the winners, with Tom Morrissey drilling 19 and Vince Peck 12. Mike Provenzano holed 12 for Economy.

It was a respectable game in the first quarter when Wiltwycks led 19-11, but a 23-6 bulge in the second period turned the contest into a route.

Cerasaro's in Squeaker

In an old fashioned duel in which both teams used only five players—that's all that showed up—Cerasaro Bros., Y Autumn "B" champions — barely squeezed by Central Lunch, 56-55.

The Lunch led 27-16 at the half and didn't relinquish its margin until the closing seconds when Jack Hickey recovered a rebound and passed to Bucky Hornbeck for the winning deuce.

The play developed when Bob Scheffel broke a Central Lunch "freeze" and attempted to try a shot near the basket. It failed, Hickey scooped up the rebound and the winning play was set up.

Joe Gardiner rimmed 15 points for the Winners. Hickey accounteed for 14 and Jack Schrader and John Graney hit with 11 each.

George Hooker of the Central Lunch was the individual star with 19 points. Ray McSpirit and Tom Rundle drilled 15 each.

Big Jim Ferraro Star With 25 Points

In handing the Lincoln cagers one of their rare defeats at home, Coach Earle O. Terwilliger's basketeers flashed surprising power and revealed themselves as a serious contender for YMCA "A" League honors.

Big Jim "Chink" Ferraro played one of his best games for the Three Bros., rimming 25 points and hitting 15 in the crucial fourth quarter.

Bob Burger and Frank Fiore holed 16 points each and Harold Hutton dropped 13 for the winners. Ed Lane, the former Oklahoma University player, contributed 10 points.

Oakley led the home forces with 17 points.

The Three Bros., have two important road games scheduled this week, playing at Stewart Field Thursday night and traveling to Napanoch Prison on Sunday.

Little Mo and Julie In Doubles Finals

Melbourne, Australia, Dec. 3 (AP) — Maureen Connolly and Julie Sampson, both Californians, reached the final of the women's doubles in the Victorian tennis championships today. They swept aside Helen Angwin and Gwen Thiele, 6-4, 6-4 in the semi-finals.

The California girls will play the first seeded Australian pair of Mary Hawton and Beryl Penrose in the final on Friday.

Frank Sedgman and Ken McGregor had an easy time entering the final in the men's doubles. They trounced veterans Adrian Quist and Geoff Brown, 6-1, 6-3, 6-2.

This Old Bruin Will Bother Chickens No More

Although he took the bear with a single, well-placed shot through the head, Dr. Comstock says that credit for the kill belongs to Sheriff William E. Green of Grafton county, N. H., and his hounds.

The bear, whose weight has been estimated at from 300 to 350 pounds, had been molesting chickens belonging to a woman in the town of Orford. After she had shot the bear in the paw with a shotgun in an unsuccessful attempt to frighten it away, she notified Sheriff Green, who wired Dr. Comstock: "If you want to shoot a bear, I have got to get rid of one."

The local dentist and Sheriff Green went out together on Thanksgiving Day, and the latter's hounds treed the large animal.

The bear is Dr. Comstock's third. The first he got before World War 2, also with Sheriff Green as a hunting partner, and the second, a smaller one, he bagged in the Adirondacks last year. His advice: Always shoot at the head. Body shots usually are just wasted lead, he says, recalling that once he placed two shots through a bear's chest without killing it.

High School Basketball Squad Slated for One More Pruning

Kias Down to 16 Men; Normally Carries 13

Varsity basketball drills at Kingston High have reached the point where one stroke of minor surgery by Coach G. Warren Kias will finally set up the 1952-53 personnel.

The sixteen survivors of the original 100 candidates will be put through several heavy scrimmages this week and by Friday Coach Kias expects to cut two or three.

The Maroon mentor has never been disturbed by the No. 13 jinx through the years. Occasionally he settles for 12 players and has used 14.

Top forward candidates are George Telepas, who racked up some heavy totals in the Y Autumn League, and Palmer "Skipper" Brodhead, one of the standouts of last year's Jayvee squad.

Jim Colclough, a good prospect, Ray Lawrence, Joe Markle and Jack Houghtaling of CYO and FYL baseball fame, are scrambling for the other positions.

Dick Bezemer, the tallest player on the team at 6 feet 4 inches, is battling Harry La Forge, a holdover from last season and John Godwin for the center slot. Bezemer has been a heavy scorer in independent basketball for the past few seasons and has a good chance to nail down the starting berth.

Bill Haber and Bill DuBois are the standout guards and the quartet of Bob Maines, Fred Jackson, the football end; Arthur Miller and John Woolsey is also in contention. Jackson, at 6 feet 1, is one of the bigger men.

Open on Dec. 12

Having suffered a DUSO championship drouth for three seasons, the Maroons have no path of roses to trod this time around. They appear to be several notches behind Newburgh, Poughkeepsie, Ellenville and Fallsburg in the pre-season ratings.

"We'll get a real test awfully fast in our home opener with Fallsburg Central on Dec. 12," Coach Kias said. "They haven't got Bob Laskowitz any more, but they pack a lot of power and we should know in a hurry just about how our team is going to shape up this year."

The 1952 graduations completely wiped out Coach Kias' first string "seven" and other factors took from this season's squad players who figured to move into varsity berths.

Three years is a long time without a DUSO basketball championship for G. Warren Kias, winner of 15 conference crowns. He isn't pessimistic about the campaign coming up; thinks the Maroon's newcomers might jell into a representative team.

National Rookie Baseball Planned

Phoenix, Ariz., Dec. 3 (AP)—Plans for a 1953 nationwide baseball program, exclusively for players between 17 and 21, were set up today by the board of directors of the National Baseball Congress.

The new organization will be known as the National Rookie Association. It is designed to fill in the period from the 17-year-age limit for American Legion players to the time when the youngsters would be better fitted for semi-pro or professional baseball.

Directors set a goal of a minimum of 100 rookie leagues for 1953 and 500 for 1960.

Bob Dunlap Choice Over Coley Wallace

Detroit, Dec. 3 (AP) — Coley Wallace, sometimes dubbed the "Young Joe Louis" of the ring today, meets fifth-ranked Bob Dunlap tonight in a nationally televised 10-round fight at Detroit's Olympia Stadium.

And aside from providing the regular mid-week boxing fare, the heavyweight bout holds no particular significance. For once, neither principal has been promised a title shot if he wins.

Because of his national rating, Dunlap would rule the betting favorite.

The bout will be televised over the CBS network starting at 10 p. m., (EST). In Michigan, the judges and referee split 10 points a round between the two fighters on their scorecards.

Still Has Fighting Heart

Hamilton, Mont. (AP)—A shot in the heart has never dimmed the fighting abilities of Lt. Gilbert Tucker, so many Germans and North Koreans could probably testify. The army lieutenant, home here after combat in Korea, was shot through the lower section of his heart on a hunting trip in 1932 when he was 10. In World War 2 he also saw combat duty on several occasions.

Get Anti-Stalling Esso Extra Gasoline
FOR FAST STARTS... QUICK WARM-UP
Anti-Stalling is another big reason Esso Extra performs best in 9 out of 10 cars all year 'round
Stalling in cool, damp weather is caused by carburetor icing. You don't have to put up with this annoyance. For starting power that gets your engine going at a touch and keeps it going, try Anti-Stalling Esso Extra . . . the only gasoline that effectively combats cold engine stalling.
It's another big extra for your money in Esso Extra — the premium gasoline long famous for quick starting, fast warm-up, high anti-knock power, and long mileage! No wonder more motorists buy Esso Extra than any other premium gasoline in the area served by Esso Dealers.
Don't stall another day—try a tankful right away—enjoy Happy Motoring!
While you're at your Esso Dealer's there's certainly no better time to let him give your car a complete lubrication and careful check-up for the cold weather driving you'll be doing.
Detroit's Automotive Engineers say that cold-engine stalling has been a persistent problem for years. Under certain conditions, powerful gasolines required for today's high-compression engines evaporate and freeze moisture out of the air, "icing up" the carburetor and causing temporary stalling. This stalling is practically eliminated by the new Esso Extra Gasoline. (No gasoline, of course, can correct stalling caused by mechanical faults or electrical failure.)

Wiltwycks, Cerasaro Cagers Win Opening Games in YMCA League

Motormen Trounce Economy, 72-31

The YMCA Winter League launched its 1952-53 season last night, but not until bad traveling conditions almost wiped out the opening slate.

Wiltwyck Motors was able to field its regular crew and spanked Economy Construction, 72-31, in a game halted early in the fourth period.

The Economy cagers started the fourth period with four players and when Charlie Tiano fouled out early in the quarter the Economys were reduced to three men and an automatic forfeit.

Big Bill Kleine, a 20-point average shooter in all his games this fall, bucketed 23 for the winners, with Tom Morrissey drilling 19 and Vince Peck 12. Mike Provenzano holed 12 for Economy.

It was a respectable game in the first quarter when Wiltwycks led 19-11, but a 23-6 bulge in the second period turned the contest into a route.

Cerasaro's in Squeaker

In an old fashioned duel in which both teams used only five players—that's all that showed up—Cerasaro Bros., Y Autumn "B" champions — barely squeezed by Central Lunch, 56-55.

The Lunch led 27-16 at the half and didn't relinquish its margin until the closing seconds when Jack Hickey recovered a rebound and passed to Bucky Hornbeck for the winning deuce.

The play developed when Bob Scheffel broke a Central Lunch "freeze" and attempted to try a shot near the basket. It failed, Hickey scooped up the rebound and the winning play was set up.

Joe Gardiner rimmed 15 points for the Winners. Hickey accounteed for 14 and Jack Schrader and John Graney hit with 11 each.

George Hooker of the Central Lunch was the individual star with 19 points. Ray McSpirit and Tom Rundle drilled 15 each.

Big Jim Ferraro Star With 25 Points

In handing the Lincoln cagers one of their rare defeats at home, Coach Earle O. Terwilliger's basketeers flashed surprising power and revealed themselves as a serious contender for YMCA "A" League honors.

The Esopus squad led 17-13 at the quarter, let the Lincolns tie it at 55-55 going into the stretch and responded with a 29-point kick at the finish.

Big Jim "Chink" Ferraro played one of his best games for the Three Bros., rimming 25 points and hitting 15 in the crucial fourth quarter.

Bob Burger and Frank Fiore holed 16 points each and Harold Hutton dropped 13 for the winners. Ed Lane, the former Oklahoma University player, contributed 10 points.

Oakley led the home forces with 17 points.

The Three Bros., have two important road games scheduled this week, playing at Stewart Field Thursday night and traveling to Napanoch Prison on Sunday.

Little Mo and Julie In Doubles Finals

Melbourne, Australia, Dec. 3 (AP) — Maureen Connolly and Julie Sampson, both Californians, reached the final of the women's doubles in the Victorian tennis championships today. They swept aside Helen Angwin and Gwen Thiele, 6-4, 6-4 in the semi-finals.

The California girls will play the first seeded Australian pair of Mary Hawton and Beryl Penrose in the final on Friday.

Frank Sedgman and Ken McGregor had an easy time entering the final in the men's doubles. They trounced veterans Adrian Quist and Geoff Brown, 6-1, 6-3, 6-2.

This Old Bruin Will Bother Chickens No More

Although he took the bear with a single, well-placed shot through the head, Dr. Comstock says that credit for the kill belongs to Sheriff William E. Green of Grafton county, N. H., and his hounds.

The bear, whose weight has been estimated at from 300 to 350 pounds, had been molesting chickens belonging to a woman in the town of Orford. After she had shot the bear in the paw with a shotgun in an unsuccessful attempt to frighten it away, she notified Sheriff Green, who wired Dr. Comstock: "If you want to shoot a bear, I have got to get rid of one."

The local dentist and Sheriff Green went out together on Thanksgiving Day, and the latter's hounds treed the large animal.

The bear is Dr. Comstock's third. The first he got before World War 2, also with Sheriff Green as a hunting partner, and the second, a smaller one, he bagged in the Adirondacks last year. His advice: Always shoot at the head. Body shots usually are just wasted lead, he says, recalling that once he placed two shots through a bear's chest without killing it.

High School Basketball Squad Slated for One More Pruning

Kias Down to 16 Men; Normally Carries 13

Varsity basketball drills at Kingston High have reached the point where one stroke of minor surgery by Coach G. Warren Kias will finally set up the 1952-53 personnel.

The sixteen survivors of the original 100 candidates will be put through several heavy scrimmages this week and by Friday Coach Kias expects to cut two or three.

The Maroon mentor has never been disturbed by the No. 13 jinx through the years. Occasionally he settles for 12 players and has used 14.

Top forward candidates are George Telepas, who racked up some heavy totals in the Y Autumn League, and Palmer "Skipper" Brodhead, one of the standouts of last year's Jayvee squad.

Jim Colclough, a good prospect, Ray Lawrence, Joe Markle and Jack Houghtaling of CYO and FYL baseball fame, are scrambling for the other positions.

Dick Bezemer, the tallest player on the team at 6 feet 4 inches, is battling Harry La Forge, a holdover from last season and John Godwin for the center slot. Bezemer has been a heavy scorer in independent basketball for the past few seasons and has a good chance to nail down the starting berth.

Bill Haber and Bill DuBois are the standout guards and the quartet of Bob Maines, Fred Jackson, the football end; Arthur Miller and John Woolsey is also in contention. Jackson, at 6 feet 1, is one of the bigger men.

Open on Dec. 12

Having suffered a DUSO championship drouth for three seasons, the Maroons have no path of roses to trod this time around. They appear to be several notches behind Newburgh, Poughkeepsie, Ellenville and Fallsburg in the pre-season ratings.

"We'll get a real test awfully fast in our home opener with Fallsburg Central on Dec. 12," Coach Kias said. "They haven't got Bob Laskowitz any more, but they pack a lot of power and we should know in a hurry just about how our team is going to shape up this year."

The 1952 graduations completely wiped out Coach Kias' first string "seven" and other factors took from this season's squad players who figured to move into varsity berths.

Three years is a long time without a DUSO basketball championship for G. Warren Kias, winner of 15 conference crowns. He isn't pessimistic about the campaign coming up; thinks the Maroon's newcomers might jell into a representative team.

National Rookie Baseball Planned

Phoenix, Ariz., Dec. 3 (AP)—Plans for a 1953 nationwide baseball program, exclusively for players between 17 and 21, were set up today by the board of directors of the National Baseball Congress.

The new organization will be known as the National Rookie Association. It is designed to fill in the period from the 17-year-age limit for American Legion players to the time when the youngsters would be better fitted for semi-pro or professional baseball.

The first national "Rookie" tournament was tentatively set for Louisville, Ky., in September of 1954.

Directors set a goal of a minimum of 100 rookie leagues for 1953 and 500 for 1960.

Bob Dunlap Choice Over Coley Wallace

Detroit, Dec. 3 (AP) — Coley Wallace, sometimes dubbed the "Young Joe Louis" of the ring today, meets fifth-ranked Bob Dunlap tonight in a nationally televised 10-round fight at Detroit's Olympia Stadium.

And aside from providing the regular mid-week boxing fare, the heavyweight bout holds no particular significance. For once, neither principal has been promised a title shot if he wins.

Because of his national rating, Dunlap would rule the betting favorite.

The bout will be televised over the CBS network starting at 10 p. m., (EST). In Michigan, the judges and referee split 10 points a round between the two fighters on their scorecards.

Casey Tips Indians on Pennant Formula Dodgers Sign Dressen for One Year

Phoenix, Ariz., Dec. 3 (AP)—Tip to Hank Greenberg, general manager of the Cleveland Indians:

Wanna beat the Yankees for the pennant next year? Let Casey Stengel, the guy who stopped you four years in a row, tell you how.

"Nothing to it," says th ·agy skipper of New York's world champions. "If you want to beat us, just make a trade with us. No fooling. Look at all the good players we gave away to other clubs in recent years—Bob Porterfield, Jackie Jensen, Frank Shea, Tommy Byrne, Duane Pillette.

"That Greenberg pops off how he hates the Yankees and wants his players to do likewise. Does he think his Indians can win the pennant by hating us? No sir.

"Know how Cleveland can win the pennant? By getting some of our players. That's how simple it is. If you can't lick 'em, get 'em on your side."

While Stengel was having some fun at the expense of his friendly rival from the Ohio city, Chuck Dressen, whose Brooklyn Dodgers bowed to Stengel's Yankees in the recent World Series, was accepting congratulations on having been rehired for another season as manager of the Brooks for a salary ranging from $35,000 to $40,000.

Dressen Signs Pact

The Dressen signing along with the announcement that Joe Black, who all but pitched the Dodgers to the championship and won Rookie of the Year honors, also had signed his contract for 1953 came as the baseball convention wound up its three-day player draft and prepared to delve into one of the heaviest legislative agendas in many years.

Dressen, obviously delighted over his new pact, announced the Dodgers were slated to meet with the Braves "in a day or two" in an effort to transact a deal. Dressen did not identify the players but made no bones about the fact he was anxious to land Warren Spahn, Boston's star southpaw.

"I think Boston is the club to trade with," he said. "They are looking for a name guy. We're willing to give him to them. If they want to trade Spahn, they can do business with us.

"I have been told that Boston would be willing to give up Spahn for an established player who can step in there and play regular for them right away plus another guy who in their opinion, can play regularly if given such a chance. I've got just those kind of guys to give them."

Asked whether he would be willing to give first baseman Gil Hodges and outelder Carl Furillo for Spahn, Dressen smiled and said:

"All I can say is I'd be willing to break up my infield and outfield to get a good starting pitcher, preferably a lefthander."

Bad Luck Hounds Gordie Glisson

San Bruno, Calif., Dec. 3 (AP)—Jockey Gordon Glisson, plagued by injuries for three years, broke his left collarbone in a spill in the seventh race at Tanforan yesterday.

Glisson, 22, was aboard My Host, trailing the field by 10 lengths. For no apparent reason, his horse stumbled and went down.

Three years ago in New York Glisson broke his right collarbone and he cracked a vertebrae at Santa Anita in 1950.

Last month at Bay Meadows, he suffered a slight back injury when his mount fell.

Sports of the Day

(IN BRIEF)

(By The Associated Press)

Phoenix—Charlie (Chuck) Dressen was rehired as manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers for 1953 at a reported salary of between $35,000 and $40,000. Joe Black, the ace reliever, also became the first Dodger to sign at reported $15,000.

Chapel Hill, N. C.—Carl Snavely resigned as head football coach at the University of North Carolina.

Philadelphia—Johnny Lattner, Notre Dame's brilliant offensive and defensive halfback, was named outstanding football player of 1952 by the Maxwell Memorial Football Club.

Chicago—Deb Snyder of Kent, O., was certified the dirt track big car auto racing champion for 1952.

Tatum May Follow Carl Snavely

Chapel Hill, N. C., Dec. 3 (AP)—The University of North Carolina started looking for a new football coach today to replace Carl Snavely and speculation centered on two former Tar Heel player greats—Jim Tatum and George Barclay.

Snavely resigned last night, effective Jan. 1. The University Athletic Council accepted the resignation and said the veteran mentor would be assigned other duties in the Department of Athletics and Physical Education, possibly teaching.

The white-haired, 54-year-old Snavely had guided the Tar Heels for 10 years, eight of them in succession. His 1946 and 1948 teams went to the Sugar Bowl and his 1949 squad to the Cotton Bowl.

His resignation came after the Tar Heels ended the three most disastrous seasons in their history. They won only seven of 28 games and only two weeks ago ended an 11-game losing streak by beating South Carolina. They won only two of eight games this year.

DOUBLE DUTY—Jesse Arnelle, above, is equally dangerous in both football and basketball. Penn State's star sophomore end caught 33 passes for a new school record this year, and established a cage single game scoring mark last season. (NEA)

White Plains, N. Y.—Nicola Funari, 133½, Rome, Italy, outpointed Jim Wilde, 135¼, New York, 8.

Casey Tips Indians on Pennant Formula Dodgers Sign Dressen for One Year

Phoenix, Ariz., Dec. 3 (AP)—Tip to Hank Greenberg, general manager of the Cleveland Indians:

Wanna beat the Yankees for the pennant next year? Let Casey Stengel, the guy who stopped you four years in a row, tell you how.

"Nothing to it," says the cagy skipper of New York's world champions. "If you want to beat us, just make a trade with us. No fooling. Look at all the good players we gave away to other clubs in recent years—Bob Porterfield, Jackie Jensen, Frank Shea, Tommy Byrne, Duane Pillette.

"That Greenberg pops off how he hates the Yankees and wants his players to do likewise. Does he think his Indians can win the pennant by hating us? No sir.

"Know how Cleveland can win the pennant? By getting some of our players. That's how simple it is. If you can't lick 'em, get 'em on your side."

While Stengel was having some fun at the expense of his friendly rival from the Ohio city, Chuck Dressen, whose Brooklyn Dodgers bowed to Stengel's Yankees in the recent World Series, was accepting congratulations on having been rehired for another season as manager of the Brooks for a salary ranging from $35,000 to $40,000.

Dressen Signs Pact

The Dressen signing along with the announcement that Joe Black, who all but pitched the Dodgers to the championship and won Rookie of the Year honors, also had signed his contract for 1953 came as the baseball convention wound up its three-day player draft and prepared to delve into one of the heaviest legislative agendas in many years.

Dressen, obviously delighted over his new pact, announced the Dodgers were slated to meet with the Braves "in a day or two" in an effort to transact a deal. Dressen did not identify the players but made no bones about the fact he was anxious to land Warren Spahn, Boston's star southpaw.

"I think Boston is the club to trade with," he said. "They are looking for a name guy. We're willing to give him to them. If they want to trade Spahn, they can do business with us.

"I have been told that Boston would be willing to give up Spahn for an established player who can step in there and play regular for them right away plus another guy who in their opinion, can play regularly if given such a chance. I've got just those kind of guys to give them."

Asked whether he would be willing to give first baseman Gil Hodges and outelder Carl Furillo for Spahn, Dressen smiled and said:

"All I can say is I'd be willing to break up my infield and outfield to get a good starting pitcher, preferably a lefthander."

Lions Hear Talk About Importance of Credit

The importance of credit in the life of a community was illustrated in a talk at the Tuesday noon meeting of the Kingston Lions Club by Richard O. Weisner, executive vice president and counsel for the New York State Consumer Finance Association.

Last year the two local consumer and finance loan companies (Personal Finance Company of New York and Upstate Loan Company, Inc.) lent $365,000 for medical, hospital and dental bills, $260,000 for consolidated debts, $68,000 for home furnishings, $55,000 for automobiles and $38,000 for clothing, he reported.

The talk was illustrated with slides. Also at Tuesday's meeting, held at the Governor Clinton Hotel, it was announced that the Lions Club Christmas party for underprivileged children would be held on Dec. 23 and the party for members' own children on Dec. 30.

700-Yard Whitetail

By WARREN PAGE
(Shooting Editor)

We hear a lot about long-range shooting in the Rocky Mountain and Plains states. Some of the tales are true, even allowing for exaggeration, but whoever heard of Easterners consistently killing whitetail deer out at 300 to 700 yards?

Usually the fellow who talks about dropping a Virginia deer, whether he busts the buck in Maine, Michigan, Pennsylvania or any of the other states where whitetails abound in the second growth—and who brags about nailing him at 150 yards—is doubling the actual yardage between his rifle and the deer. But some Eastern ultra-long-range stuff is no kidding.

The section of Pennsylvania around Galeton is cut by steep-sided valleys, almost canyons, from 400 to 1000 yards airline from rim to rim. The gully sides are criss-crossed by old railroad grades and lumbering roads that make excellent observation and shooting platforms for operations on bucks moving on the opposite slope.

When there's snow, and sometimes where there isn't, the relatively open second growth timber in those valleys leaves a moving animal visible to the naked eye, a dozing buck clear to good binoculars or a spotting scope.

These cross-gully hunters, all of them, are expert riflemen, rigged out with rifles of target weight (about 12 pounds) dolled up with target telescope of from 10 to 20 power. They use high speed magnums like the .300 Holland and Holland, or hot wildcats like the .270-4000, 7mm. Mashburn and the like, to get extreme flatness of bullet trajectory, and plenty of wallop at the delivery end.

The rifles are carefully sighted in at 400 yards, and each rifleman carries a little dope card numbering the sight corrections needed for other ranges. The old crossed sticks of the buffalo hunter help steady the rifle. And they kill deer, half a dozen bucks a year from one camp alone by this method.

A buck hit but not killed doesn't run away. He stands around waiting for correction shots and the finisher. Why? Because he scents no human, hears no human, sees no human and cannot associate the distant rifle boom with the impact of a bullet.

In the past 10 years long-range fanatics from one Dry Hollow camp have lost only one wounded buck and have killed a couple of dozen—and what bunch of brush-busters, shooting at running deer at close range, can boast as much.

New Mining Machine

New York (AP) — A new mining machine that bores for 700 feet horizontally into the side of a hill, taking out a steady stream of coal by a series of conveyors, has been announced by the Carbide and Carbon Chemical Co. The machine, powered by electricity, moves on tractor treads. Its four intermeshing rotary cutting heads carve a hole 3 by 10 feet in the coal seam. The machine forces the mined coal onto a traveling conveyor system.

BOWLERS—Syracuse looks for a busy afternoon trying to stop Halfback Bobby Marlow, left, of Alabama in Miami's Orange Bowl New Year's Day Quarterback Ronnie Morris, center, is to handle the ball for Tulsa against Florida in the Jacksonville Gator Bowl. Halfback Harland Carl is Wisconsin's chief long-distance weapon against Southern California in the Pasadena Rose Bowl. (NEA)

ABC Opens Boxing Network Jan. 24

New York, Dec. 3 (AP)—A wide open scramble for boxing talent, scarce commodity these days, will begin in January when a fourth network will start telecasting fights every Saturday night.

The American Broadcasting Company stepped into the picture by closing a deal with Bayuk Cigars, Inc., for the Saturday night fights, starting Jan. 24. Thus live boxing shows will be beamed to some parts of the country on Monday, Wednesday, Friday and Saturday nights. The Saturday bouts will be telecast at 9 p. m., EST. The others start at 10 p. m. EST.

Some cities like New York, already get boxing every night of the week except Sunday via TV.

Word of the new deal, said to be a "$2,500,000 package," was greeted with mixed feelings on cauliflower row. Some veterans said it will give fighters and managers a bargaining point and a chance to make money. Others said it was just another nail in the sport's coffin and that it will kill off some more of the small clubs around the country.

Prexy Was Tennis Star

Wichita, Kan. (AP) — The University of Wichita not only has a youthful president but one who has been an athletic star as well. President Harry F. Corbin, 35, who has held the job three years, owns over 30 trophies won in tennis competition.

The pheasant is native to the area from the Caspian Sea through Southeastern Europe.

2,000 Albany Fans To Accompany Siena To Madison Square

The Siena College basketball varsity will be accompanied by more than 2,000 Albany area fans when it invades Madison Square Garden Saturday night to play Iona College.

Generally spotted in the first Saturday night doubleheader at the Garden, the Indians have won three straight.

Coach Dan Cunha's cagers were forced to battle until the last minute to whip LeMoyne, 53-49, in the Thanksgiving Night opener before a full house at the Albany Armory.

Siena displayed a poor shooting average from the field in the first half with only five field goals. The Indians' foul line markmanship was much better, and that factor actually saved them from going down to defeat in their season's inaugural.

Tom Pottenburgh, of Rhinebeck, Siena's 6 foot 9 giant, will be double teamed plenty this season, as he was in the LeMoyne game, and this may put the burden on outside shooters like Jack Merry and Billy Kirsch.

Another problem Cunha will be working on this week is to strengthen his bench for the Gaels from Iona. The New Rochelle squad will more than match Siena in the height department, and Cunha will have to substitute freely this early in the season to save many of his best operatives for the late going.

Sturgeon were formerly caught on the American Atlantic coast, but the number of the fish has been reduced so sharply that it no longer pays to fish for them commercially.

New Gas Water Heater Ideal for Local Use!

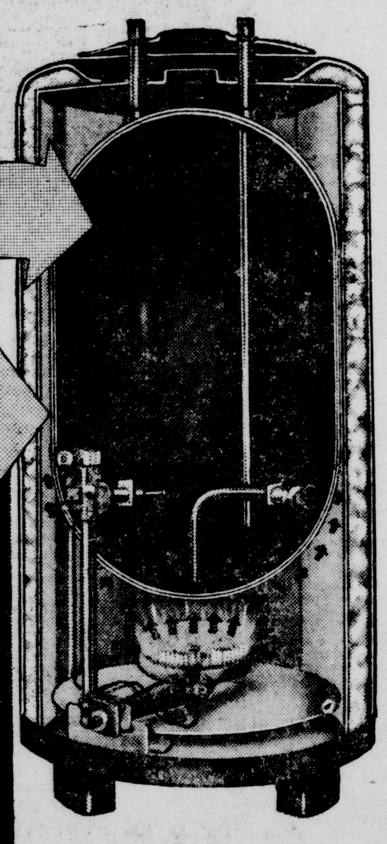
RHEEM "COPPERMATIC" DEFIES CORROSION, COSTLY BREAKDOWNS!

The first sure answer to early rust and corrosion of storage-type water heaters by local water is promised in the new Rheem "Coppermatic" automatic gas water heater, now on display at local dealers.

A TANK OF PURE COPPER complete, rustproof inner tank

The inner copper tank of this new heater cannot rust and it withstands corrosion many times longer than ordinary tanks.

IN A TANK OF SOLID STEEL both tanks "Pressure-Proved"



Together, the outer steel tank and inner copper tank are "pressure-proved" before delivery—by tests at more than double the normal pressure!

Copper "Ageless"

The endurance of copper is indicated by the thin sheets coating the Statue of Liberty in New York Harbor — still in perfect condition after 67 years! Copper pipes thousands of years old are still usable. The "Coppermatic's" inner tank is pure copper.

Compact Size Fits Low-Ceiling Space

Easy adaptation to any basement space is made possible by the compactness of the new heater. Its exclusive built-in draft diverter makes the complete installation many inches lower.

Outer Jacket of Enameled Steel

The smart appearance of the new Rheem "Coppermatic" heater will brighten any basement or kitchen. Its outer steel jacket is finished in two-toned enamel. Between the inner steel flue casing and the outer jacket is heavy Fiberglas insulation.

New Design Speeds Hot Water

Both the copper tank and steel tank of the new heater fit tightly together. Because their bottoms are capsule-shaped, without central flues, the wide circular gas burner directly heats a much larger area than on heaters of usual design. The heat is then drawn up by a new exclusive multiple-flue system, to provide added heat transfer at extremely low cost.

700-Yard Whitetail

By WARREN PAGE
(Shooting Editor)

We hear a lot about long-range shooting in the Rocky Mountain and Plains states. Some of the tales are true, even allowing for exaggeration, but whoever heard of Easterners consistently killing whitetail deer out at 300 to 700 yards?

Usually the fellow who talks about dropping a Virginia deer, whether he busts the buck in Maine, Micnigan, Pennsylvania or any of the other states where whitetails abound in the second growth—and who brags about nailing him at 150 yards—is doubling the actual yardage between his rifle and the deer. But some Eastern ultra-long-range stuff is no kidding.

The section of Pennsylvania around Galeton is cut by steep-sided valleys, almost canyons, from 400 to 1000 yards airline from rim to rim. The gully sides are criss-crossed by old railroad grades and lumbering roads that make excellent observation and shooting platforms for operations on bucks moving on the opposite slope.

When there's snow, and sometimes where there isn't, the relatively open second growth timber in those valleys leaves a moving animal visible to the naked eye, a dozing buck clear to good binoculars or a spotting scope.

These cross-gully hunters, all of them, are expert riflemen, rigged out with rifles of target weight (about 12 pounds) dolled up with target telescope of from 10 to 20 power. They use high speed magnums like the .300 Holland and Holland, or hot wildcats like the .270-4000, 7mm. Mashburn and the like, to get extreme flatness of bullet trajectory, and plenty of wallop at the delivery end.

The rifles are carefully sighted in at 400 yards, and each riflegman carries a little dope card numbering the sight corrections needed for other ranges. The old crossed sticks of the buffalo hunter help steady the rifle. And they kill deer, half a dozen bucks a year from one camp alone by this method.

A buck hit but not killed doesn't run away. He stands around waiting for correction shots and the finisher. Why? Because he scents no human, hears no human, sees no human and cannot associate the distant rifle boom with the impact of a bullet.

In the past 10 years long-range fanatics from one Dry Hollow camp have lost only one wounded buck and have killed a couple of dozen—and what bunch of brush-busters, shooting at running deer at close range, can boast as much.

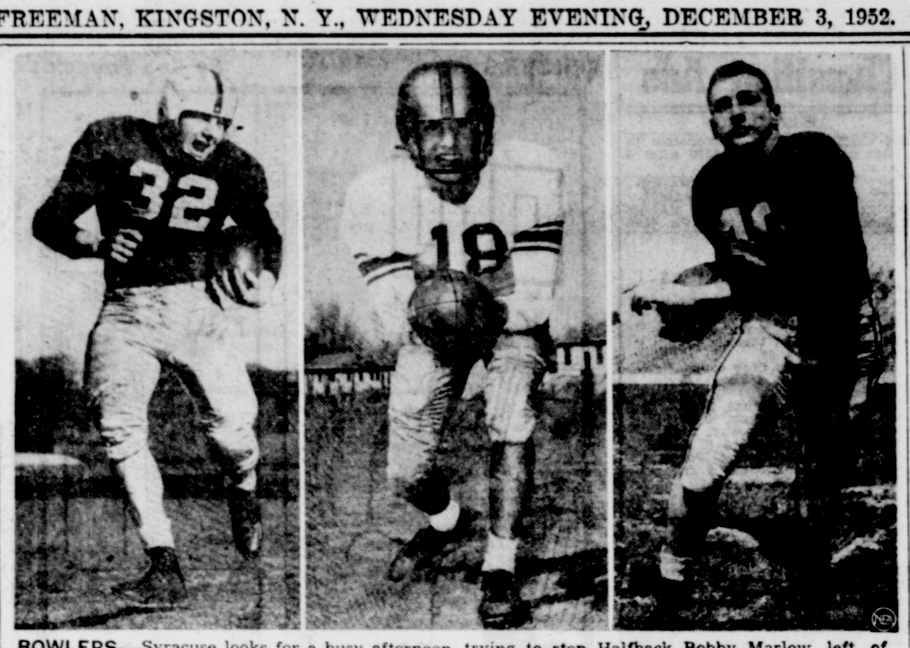
New Mining Machine

New York (AP) — A new mining machine that bores for 700 feet horizontally into the side of a hill, taking out a steady stream of coal by a series of conveyors, has been announced by the Carbide and Carbon Chemical Co. The machine, powered by electricity, moves on tractor treads. Its four intermeshing rotary cutting heads carve a hole 3 by 10 feet in the coal seam. The machine forces the mined coal onto a traveling conveyor system.



BOWLERS—Syracuse looks for a busy afternoon trying to stop Halfback Bobby Marlow, left, of Alabama in Miami's Orange Bowl New Year's Day Quarterback Ronnie Morris, center, is to handle the ball for Tulsa against Florida in the Jacksonville Gator Bowl. Halfback Harland Carl is Wisconsin's chief long-distance weapon against Southern California in the Pasadena Rose Bowl. (NEA)

ABC Opens Boxing Network Jan. 24

New York, Dec. 3 (AP)—A wide open scramble for boxing talent, scarce commodity these days, will begin in January when a fourth network will start telecasting fights every Saturday night.

The American Broadcasting Company stepped into the picture by closing a deal with Bayuk Cigars, Inc., for the Saturday night fights, starting Jan. 24. Thus live boxing shows will be beamed to some parts of the country on Monday, Wednesday, Friday and Saturday nights. The Saturday bouts will be telecast at 9 p. m., EST. The others start at 10 p. m. EST.

Some cities like New York, already get boxing every night of the week except Sunday via TV.

Word of the new deal, said to be a "$2,500,000 package," was greeted with mixed feelings on cauliflower row. Some veterans said it will give fighters and managers a bargaining point and a chance to make money. Others said it was just another nail in the sport's coffin and that it will kill off some more of the small clubs around the country.

Prexy Was Tennis Star

Wichita, Kan. (AP) — The University of Wichita not only has a youthful president but one who has been an athletic star as well. President Harry F. Corbin, 35, who has held the job three years, owns over 30 trophies won in tennis competition.

The pheasant is native to the area from the Caspian Sea through Southeastern Europe.

2,000 Albany Fans To Accompany Siena To Madison Square

The Siena College basketball varsity will be accompanied by more than 2,000 Albany area fans when it invades Madison Square Garden Saturday night to play Iona College.

Generally spotted in the first Saturday night doubleheader at the Garden, the Indians have won three straight.

Coach Dan Cunha's cagers were forced to battle until the last minute to whip LeMoyne, 53-49, in the Thanksgiving Night opener before a full house at the Albany Armory.

Siena displayed a poor shooting average from the field in the first half with only five field goals. The Indians' foul line markmanship was much better, and that factor actually saved them from going down to defeat in their season's inaugural.

Tom Pottenburgh, of Rhinebeck, Siena's 6 foot 9 giant, will be double teamed plenty this season, as he was in the LeMoyne game, and this may put the burden on outside shooters like Jack Merry and Billy Kirsch.

Another problem Cunha will be working on this week is to strengthen his bench for the Gaels from Iona. The New Rochelle squad will more than match Siena in the height department, and Cunha will have to substitute freely this early in the season to save many of his best operatives for the late going.

Sturgeon Reduced

Sturgeon were formerly caught on the American Atlantic coast, but the number of the fish has been reduced so sharply that it no longer pays to fish for them commercially.

School Vandalism Grows

Louisville, Ky. (AP) — Vandalism and break-ins in public schools are increasing year by year, says a school official here. City School Superintendent Omar Carmichael says there were 18 break-ins in city schools in September. In the year ending June, 1952, 262 break-ins occurred with damage amounting to $4,224. He also stated that 2,404 panes of glass were broken by vandals at 40 schools in the city during summer vacation.

EAL Tells Men To Return or Quit

Miami, Fla., Dec. 3 (AP)—Eastern Air Lines planned to resume some Constellation flights today and told striking flight engineers to return to work by 2 p. m. or lose their jobs.

EAL officials said two Constellation flights from New York to Miami and one northbound from Miami would be made, using flight engineer supervisors as regular crew members.

EAL's Constellation fleet was grounded at 6 a. m. Monday when flight engineers struck for higher wages after several weeks of negotiations for a new contract.

The contract with the Flight Engineers International Association (AFL) expired at midnight Nov. 30. Some airports were picketed and service at a dozen major points east of the Mississippi was affected.

The strike grounded only the big Constellations since these are the only EAL planes carrying flight engineers.

Capt. Eddie V. Rickenbacker, EAL president, termed the strike "illegal" and notified flight engineers by telegram Tuesday that if they did not report for work by 2 p. m. today "they will be considered as having resigned their jobs with loss of all seniority and length service rights and will be replaced."

Flight engineers received $5,160 to $8,160 annually for 85 hours of flying a month, Rickenbacker said, and the company offered increases to make the pay $5,700 to $9,000 annually.

New Jersey reported nearly five inches of snow, but the storm was slight in New York city.

The death toll was attributed to heart attacks brought on by exertion. One man died yesterday in New York and another in Newark, N. J., from shoveling snow. A third man died while putting chains on his car in Boonton, N. J.

The weather bureau said snow had stopped falling in most areas this morning and in southeastern New York the fall was expected to end by noon. It predicted clearing skies and rising temperatures today, but drops as low as 15 and 25 in most of the state tonight.

THE LITTLE PEOPLE'S CHRISTMAS — MAKING YOUNGSTERS HAPPY — By WALT SCOTT

sion Against Discrimination, Senator Arthur H. Wicks and The Freeman, follows:

December 3, 1952.

N. Y. State Commission Against Discrimination,
212 State St.,
Albany, N. Y.

Gentlemen:

It is high time that the vast majority, and usually silent, citizens of this state rise up in protest at the mockery made of our laws by certain radically discriminatory minorities.

For nearly two centuries, Americans have prided themselves upon the building of a new type of nation in which the dignity and personal liberty of the individual was recognized and protected by law. Among these liberties was the right to worship unmolested in any church of the individual's choice. Even though Protestant Christians constitute the bulk of the population of this country, they do not force membership into that faith — but equally on the other hand, they do insist that they be permitted to pursue their beliefs without interference.

Must Hold to Beliefs

We are a religious nation, having invoked the aid of Deity at our birth and being daily mindful of His blessings. We should, and do, strenuously resist any effort by anyone to twist us away from our religious beliefs and practices, whatever they may be.

The American Jewish Congress, which we believe does not represent the thoughts of any large part of Judaism in America, and certainly does not represent the beliefs of our many Jewish friends in Ulster county, is the latest transgressor against fundamental American ideals. In a typical 'smear' attempt, they protest against resort advertising which states that a resort is "near churches." Here in Ulster county, we believe that being near churches, physically and spiritually, offers a definite advantage in a world that verges on the ungodly. The commonly accepted colloquial definition of the word 'church' is "regular religious services or public worship" with no hint of what religion might be involved. Incidentally, 'church' is a good American word that dates from the founding of our nation and should not be displaced by other foreign words having a limited and unAmerican meaning.

Proud of Synagogues

The AJC evidently objects to the fact that advertising does not mention that 'synagogues' are also available close by. Here in Ulster county where we have a large proportion of Jewish population and where we extend a cordial welcome every summer to members of that faith, we probably have more synagogues per capita of permanent population than anywhere outside of a certain few metropolitan centers—and we are proud of the fact! We also have many other places of worship catering to a diversity of faiths. To list them all in an advertisement, except by using a commonly understood word to cover all, would be an impossibility. To carry the AJC argument to its ultimate conclusion, do not the Mohammedans have cause for complaint because hotels do not advertise that they provide camels to carry them to mosques on Holy Days?

Against Creating Animosity

We protest strenuously against any consideration by your body on trivial, picayune matters of this sort which serve only to create animosity against the blameless straight-thinking and major segment of the group which they purport to represent.

The Williams Lake Hotel, mentioned in press dispatches as one of the libelled resorts, bears a spotless reputation among all creeds and nationalities. Their clientele is distinctly more cosmopolitan than the average run of hotels, which to them is a point of pride. That they discriminate against Jews is proved baseless daily, a point in instance being the October 26, 1952, banquet and meeting of the liquor dealers in Ulster, Orange and Dutchess counties. Over 200 dealers were welcomed and entertained, of whom about 65 per cent were of the Jewish faith.

Yours sincerely,
JACK FEYE,
President New York State Package Stores Association.

Film Is Released

Vienna, Dec. 3 (AP)—Russian censors have released for distribution in the Soviet zone of Austria an Austrian government-financed film satirizing the four-power occupation of this country. Fears had been expressed that the Russians would not permit the movie "1 April 2000" to be shown to Russian zone audiences. By means of the film, the Austrian government hopes to stir up world public opinion in favor of granting Austria an independence treaty—promised her in 1943 by the Big Four.

President-Elect

after the Nov. 4 election he was not campaigning for it.

Taft Viewed as Irritated

Senators at the Capitol were certain Taft has become increasingly irritated in the last 10 days at the trend of Eisenhower appointments.

The Ohioan said he was asked to submit recommendations for cabinet jobs and did so. But he has let it be known that not one of his first choices was selected.

In contrast, some of the cabinet selections and White House staff appointees were close associates of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey—Taft's arch-rival in GOP affairs for years.

At the famous Eisenhower-Taft Morningside Heights conference in September, one of the points Taft emphasized most was that he had been given assurances there would be no discrimination against his supporters in appointments in the Eisenhower administration.

In yesterday's statement Taft said Herbert Brownell, who helped defeat the Ohioan in two of his presidential bids, was the "key man" in the Eisenhower appointments.

Brownell, long a close friend and adviser of Dewey, has been named as attorney general in the new cabinet.

Taft declined to say whether he would seek to block confirmation of Durkin. He would be in a key position to try to do so as chairman of the Senate Labor Committee starting in January.

But Democratic senators predicted Taft could not do it if he tried. Some Republicans were inclined to agree.

Humphrey Hopes

tion after Eisenhower announced it.

Weeks Refused Comment

Another cabinet nominee, Sinclair Weeks, of Boston, shut off all questions about the Taft statement. Weeks has been named for secretary of commerce.

Both Weeks and Humphrey discussed the outlook for business in the immediate future, and both voiced high optimism.

"I am more optimistic about the future of this country," Humphrey said, "than I have been in a long time."

Weeks said, "I don't think for a second that this country has to be dependent on an armament program to maintain the level of our activity."

Would Slash Spending

He said the present levels can be maintained as business turns to "peacetime products, new inventions, new developments, not only new developments in products but new developments in making products."

On the question of a reduction in taxes, Humphrey said: "If we reduce spending, taxes will be reduced, and I very much hope we can do both."

Weeks said he favors eliminating the excess profits tax entirely, if possible. "The rates ought to be lowered in any event," he said.

Humphrey also asked about a cleanup of the Bureau of Internal Revenue. He replied, "If there is any way in the world that we can have a clean administration, we're going to do it. I don't know whether I can do it or not, but I'll die trying."

Legal Action Hits

that he is not a Communist. But Schiller, archivist of the United Nation's European headquarters in Geneva, refused to say whether he had ever been a Communist member.

Before joining the UN, Schiller served in the U. S. Army and as a civilian employe of the U. S. Navy.

The army lodged formal charges against First Lt. Sheppard Carl Thierman, 30-year-old army doctor who refused to tell the subcommittee whether he was a Communist.

An army spokesman said the charge was made under a military code section dealing with fraudulent enlistment, appointment or separation. He said an investigation will decide whether the charges will be referred to a general court martial.

A New York federal grand jury said "an overwhelmingly large group of disloyal United States citizens" has seeped into the UN as part of a "definite, planned pattern." Jurors urged that, when their terms expire, a new jury be impaneled to carry on their investigation of alleged subversion and espionage.

Nunan to Plead

New York, Dec. 3 (AP)—Former Internal Revenue Commissioner Joseph D. Nunan, Jr., is scheduled to plead Dec. 10 to an indictment charging him with evading payment of $91,086 in income taxes from 1946 through 1950. He was the nation's chief tax collector from 1944 to 1947, when he returned to private law practice. Nunan, who lives at West Douglaston, Queens, was indicted yesterday by a federal grand jury in Brooklyn.

Slansky, Others

Minister Vlado Clementis and the others confessed to a long list of crimes against Stalinism. Those included "Trotskyite, Zionist, Bourgeois-Nationalist" activities, plotting with "Anglo-American imperialists" and other actions communism regards as treason.

Most of the purge victims had been high in Communist party councils, giving the trial the appearance of a climax of a struggle for power between Slansky and President Klement Gottwald. But the anti-Zionist tone of the proceedings indicated the purge was to spread to all the other satellite Communist countries and perhaps even to the Soviet republics inside the USSR.

Reign of Terror

Within the Soviet Union itself there were signs of a growing reign of terror, particularly in republics such as the Ukraine. There a Soviet military court has just sentenced three high party trade officials to death as "enemies of the people" for embezzlement. The heavy sentence was highly unusual for this crime, rife throughout the whole USSR.

The charge that the three hid gold acquired in their operations hinted that the Ukrainian underground movement, rising out of its own ashes, was active again and the real target of the crackdown.

Other Trials Expected

Trials now are expected soon in Romania, where Jewess Ana Pauker, former party boss, has fallen from grace with many others; in Poland and in the other satellites. In Czechoslovakia, it looked like only the beginning of a reign of terror among former party stalwarts who backed the wrong horse. The assignment of a new ambassador from Prague to Moscow and the arrest of the foreign trade minister, announced yesterday by Prague radio, hinted at more bloodletting in the purification of the Czech party.

The swiftness of the executions in Pankrac prison came as a surprise. There had been some thought that the 11 would be spared long enough to testify against others in the forthcoming purge, but apparently Gottwald did not want to risk the wait.

Those Executed

Those who died with Slansky, the Czech Party's former secretary general, were:

Vlado Clementis, former Czech foreign minister;

Bedrich Geminder, former head of the Communist Party's international section and Kremlin spokesman in Prague;

Otto Sling, former deputy secretary general of the party;

Bedrich Reicin, an ex-general and former deputy defense minister;

Otto Fischl, former deputy finance minister;

Rudolf Margolius, former deputy trade minister;

Andre Simone, ex-editor of the Czech Communist newspaper Rude Pravo;

Josef Frank, formerly Slansky's deputy and a member of the party's presidium;

Karel Svab, ousted last year as deputy minister of state security.

The other three defendants given life sentences were Arthur London and Vavro Hajdu, both former deputy foreign ministers, and Evzen Loebl, former deputy foreign trade ministers.

Salvation Kettles Boiling Uptown

The Salvation Army jingle bells heralding the approach of Christmas may be heard on Wall and North Front streets, where members of the organization are receiving donations to help Santa Claus.

Shoppers may drop their donations in the Christmas kettles to help buy materials neded by the Army in furnishing meals for needy families, spreading cheer to shut-ins, and providing parties and treats for the children of the community.

Captain Lloyd Davis, local commander of the Salvation Army, said the corps would appreciate all donations, and announced that the office, 186 Green street, will be open daily from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. for families to report their needs and make application for Christmas baskets.

No applications will be accepted by phone, he said, unless in case of an emergency.

EAL Tells Men To Return or Quit

Miami, Fla., Dec. 3 (AP)—Eastern Air Lines planned to resume some Constellation flights today and told striking flight engineers to return to work by 2 p. m. or lose their jobs.

EAL officials said two Constellation flights from New York to Miami and one northbound from Miami would be made, using flight engineer supervisors as regular crew members.

EAL's Constellation fleet was grounded at 6 a. m. Monday when flight engineers struck for higher wages after several weeks of negotiations for a new contract.

The contract with the Flight Engineers International Association (AFL) expired at midnight Nov. 30. Some airports were picketed and service at a dozen major points east of the Mississippi was affected.

The strike grounded only the big Constellations since these are the only EAL planes carrying flight engineers.

Capt. Eddie V. Flight engineers received $5,160 to $8,160 annually for 85 hours of flying a month, Rickenbacker said, and the company offered increases to make the pay $5,700 to $9,000 annually.

that he is not a Communist. But Schiller, archivist of the United Nation's European headquarters in Geneva, refused to say whether he had ever been a Communist member.

Before joining the UN, Schiller served in the U. S. Army and as a civilian employe of the U. S. Navy.

The army lodged formal charges against First Lt. Sheppard Carl Thierman, 30-year-old army doctor who refused to tell the subcommittee whether he was a Communist.

An army spokesman said the charge was made under a military code section dealing with fraudulent enlistment, appointment or separation. He said an investigation will decide whether the charges will be referred to a general court martial.

A New York federal grand jury said "an overwhelmingly large group of disloyal United States citizens" has seeped into the UN as part of a "definite, planned pattern." Jurors urged that, when their terms expire, a new jury be impaneled to carry on their investigation of alleged subversion and espionage.

Nunan to Plead

New York, Dec. 3 (AP)—Former Internal Revenue Commissioner Joseph D. Nunan, Jr., is scheduled to plead Dec. 10 to an indictment charging him with evading payment of $91,086 in income taxes from 1946 through 1950. He was the nation's chief tax collector from 1944 to 1947, when he returned to private law practice. Nunan, who lives at West Douglaston, Queens, was indicted yesterday by a federal grand jury in Brooklyn.

Slansky, Others

Minister Vlado Clementis and the others confessed to a long list of crimes against Stalinism. Those included "Trotskyite, Zionist, Bourgeois-Nationalist" activities, plotting with "Anglo-American imperialists" and other actions communism regards as treason.

Most of the purge victims had been high in Communist party councils, giving the trial the appearance of a climax of a struggle for power between Slansky and President Klement Gottwald. But the anti-Zionist tone of the proceedings indicated the purge was to spread to all the other satellite Communist countries and perhaps even to the Soviet republics inside the USSR.

Reign of Terror

Within the Soviet Union itself there were signs of a growing reign of terror, particularly in republics such as the Ukraine. There a Soviet military court has just sentenced three high party trade officials to death as "enemies of the people" for embezzlement. The heavy sentence was highly unusual for this crime, rife throughout the whole USSR.

The charge that the three hid gold acquired in their operations hinted that the Ukrainian underground movement, rising out of its own ashes, was active again and the real target of the crackdown.

Other Trials Expected

Trials now are expected soon in Romania, where Jewess Ana Pauker, former party boss, has fallen from grace with many others; in Poland and in the other satellites. In Czechoslovakia, it looked like only the beginning of a reign of terror among former party stalwarts who backed the wrong horse. The assignment of a new ambassador from Prague to Moscow and the arrest of the foreign trade minister, announced yesterday by Prague radio, hinted at more bloodletting in the purification of the Czech party.

The swiftness of the executions in Pankrac prison came as a surprise. There had been some thought that the 11 would be spared long enough to testify against others in the forthcoming purge, but apparently Gottwald did not want to risk the wait.

Those Executed

Those who died with Slansky, the Czech Party's former secretary general, were:

Vlado Clementis, former Czech foreign minister;

Bedrich Geminder, former head of the Communist Party's international section and Kremlin spokesman in Prague;

Otto Sling, former deputy secretary general of the party;

Ludvik Frejka, former head of the state economic commission;

Bedrich Reicin, an ex-general and former deputy defense minister;

Otto Fischl, former deputy finance minister;

Rudolf Margolius, former deputy trade minister;

Andre Simone, ex-editor of the Czech Communist newspaper Rude Pravo;

Josef Frank, formerly Slansky's deputy and a member of the party's presidium;

Karel Svab, ousted last year as deputy minister of state security.

The other three defendants given life sentences were Arthur London and Vavro Hajdu, both former deputy foreign ministers, and Evzen Loebl, former deputy foreign trade ministers.

Old Shipmates Meet

With the 1st Marine Division in Korea (AP) — It's a small world for at least two Marines here. Recently Lt. Edward J. Pierson, a forward observer with the 1st Marine Division, and M. Sgt. John Russell, battalion sergeant major, met for the first time since both served on the USS Arizona 18 years ago.

Salvation Kettles Boiling Uptown

The Salvation Army jingle bells heralding the approach of Christmas may be heard on Wall and North Front streets, where members of the organization are receiving donations to help Santa Claus.

Shoppers may drop their donations in the Christmas kettles to help buy materials neded by the Army in furnishing meals for needy families, spreading cheer to shut-ins, and providing parties and treats for the children of the community.

Captain Lloyd Davis, local commander of the Salvation Army, said the corps would appreciate all donations, and announced that the office, 186 Green street, will be open daily from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. for families to report their needs and make application for Christmas baskets.

No applications will be accepted by phone, he said, unless in case of an emergency.

30-Day Forecast Gives December Icy Fingers

Washington, Dec. 3 (AP)—A colder than normal December is in sight for most of the country.

The Weather Bureau said today its 30-day outlook "calls for temperatures to average below seasonal normals over most of the nation except for near or slightly above normal in Florida and in the northern tier of states from the Dakotas eastward through New England."

It added:

"Precipitation is expected to exceed normal over the southern half of the country, while northern portions should get about normal amounts. Much of the precipitation in the Rocky Mountain states and in areas north of a line from the Texas Panhandle to North Carolina is expected to be in the form of snow."

Council Thanks Anniversary Unit

The Common Council last night adopted a resolution thanking the city's 300th anniversary committee for its work and calling for the presentation of citations to its members.

Offered by Second Ward Alderman Benjamin Storms, the resolution noted that 1952, the city's 300th anniversary year, is coming to a close.

It has been a "memorable one" it said, and it noted that Stanley Matthews, as general chairman, "gave unstintingly of his time and efforts" and that he and members of various committees worked voluntarily for functions, participated in by many citizens, and which, brought visitors to the city.

The resolution expressed thanks on behalf of the Common Council and for the people of the city and resolved that "a proper citation be prepared and presented to all those whose untiring efforts succeeded in making this, the 300th anniversary of the City of Kingston, such a tremendous success."

Schedules Made For 1953 Courts

Designation of time for holding trial terms of County court during 1953 has been made. There will be trial terms of County court opening on the first Monday of February, first Monday of April, second Tuesday of September and on the first Monday of November. There will be a Grand jury in attendance at the April term of the court.

Terms of Supreme court will be held next year in this county on the first Monday of January with Justice MacAffer presiding; first Monday of March with Justice Elsworth presiding; first Monday of May with Justice Deckelman, newly-elected justice, presiding; first Monday in October with Justice Taylor presiding and on the first Monday in December with Justice Schirick presiding. Trial and Grand juries will be in attendance at each term of Supreme court.

Hoffman Proposes Curb on Editorial Space Politically

Washington, Dec. 3 (AP)—A suggestion that Congress seek by law to limit the editorial space a newspaper may devote to a political candidate was emphatically opposed today by members of a congressional committee.

The suggestion was made by Rep. Clare E. Hoffman (R-Mich.) to a special House committee studying Federal election laws with a view to recommending changes to the new Congress. Hoffman will head the important House Government Operations Committee starting next year.

"It's just unconstitutional," said Chairman Hale Boggs (D-La) of the special group, when asked what he thought about Hoffman's proposal.

"Impractical," commented Rep. Keating of New York, top Republican on Boggs' committee.

It's Unworkable

"It's unworkable and unconstitutional," was the reaction of Rep. Karsten (D-Mo.)

"You can't do anything about it if a paper wants to favor one candidate editorially," said Rep. McCulloch (R-Ohio). "The constitution guarantees the freedom of the press to print what it wants."

The fifth committee member, Rep. Rooney (D-NY), was not present when Hoffman made the suggestion.

"Why shouldn't there be some limit on the editorial space (a newspaper may give to a candidate)," Hoffman asked, citing the present law limiting financial aid to a candidate.

Might Be Complications

Hoffman admitted there might be some complications involved, and later told a reporter he knew he had "put his foot in it" by making such a suggestion, but still contended he thought it a good idea.

He said if individuals are restricted as to the amount of money they may contribute to a campaign, a newspaper should be limited to the space it gives candidates because, he said, "some of these editorials are nothing more than ads, anyhow."

He argued, too, that his suggestion did not run counter to the constitutional guarantee of a free press. "You're limiting a man's freedom of speech when you limit his purely financial contributions, aren't you? The same principle's involved."

Editor John Knight of the Detroit Free Press disagreed: "As usual, Rep. Hoffman is talking through his hat," he said. "He should re-read the constitution."

QUESTION: I've noticed that quite often when a large plate glass store window is broken it is several days before either the owner or his insurance company can get new glass installed and it is necessary to board up the window temporarily. If the owner has Plate Glass insurance does the Company pay for the boarding up?

ANSWER: Yes, when the owner of Plate Glass insurance suffers a loss under the policy and the Company is unable to make immediate replacement, the temporary protection is paid for by the Company.

If you'll address your own insurance questions to this office we'll try to give you the correct answers and there will be NO CHARGE OR OBLIGATION OF ANY KIND.
